FIGHTING ON THREE POINTS OF 100 MILE FRONT NEAR SHANGHAI

Reinforcements Thrown Into the Fray by Both Sides—
1100 Troops From 22 Warships in Harbor Landed to Protect Foreign Settlement

SHANGHAI, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) While the preliminary battles in China's civil war continued today with renewed intensity in the vicinity of the prize city of Shanghai, Chang Tso-lin, warlord of Manchuria, and Wu Pei-fu, military head of the Peking government, entered their forces to meet in the main contest, a fight for control of the central government of China.

It was apparent that the fighting was being brought closer to the city by the invading forces.

Warned by firing east of here, at Nansiang, 12 miles from the city, foreign governments landed 1,100 troops from 22 warships stationed in the harbor, at daybreak today and were ready to defend the foreign settlement should it come within the line of fire before nightfall.

Fighting was carried on today at three points on the 100-mile front west and south of Shanghai. While no decisive action took place, reinforcements were thrown into the fray by both sides.

Defenders Regain Ground

SHANGHAI, Sept. 8.—(By the Associated Press.) The Chekiang forces defending Shanghai against the Kiangsu troops have regained all the ground they had lost in the Lihuo sector, northwest of this city, it was announced here late today.

Heavy rain stopped the fighting this evening.

The executive functions of the government have been taken over by the new cabinet with General Aitamarino at its head.

After the approval last evening by the two houses of congress of the reform measures which had been demanded by the military committee, the council of state signed a proclamation announcing the steps which had been taken. Then President Alessandri presented himself before the ministry and renounced his office.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 8.—Victor de Mange, 40 years of age, a former resident of Lowell, who was committed to the State hospital here from the Boston Psychopathic hospital on July 8, was drowned today in Lake Quinsigamond, while swimming. A squad of police dragged the water in the vicinity and recovered the body, which was identified as that of de Mange. He leaves his mother and a sister in Lowell.

Jones was taken to the Rhode Island hospital in this city. He was badly burned and received many serious bruises.

Jones, driver of the truck, allowed it to coast down the hill and lost control.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 8.—The contest between Cola L. Blease, twice governor of South Carolina, and Representative James Byrnes for the United States senate nomination, dominated public interest as South Carolina democrats went to the polls today to make nominations not settled by the first primary held two weeks ago.

Since the democratic nomination is equivalent in election, the winner will succeed Senator Blair, who was eliminated in the first primary.

The enlistment record and other history of the case has gone along with the ship except for the report on the court of inquiry which has been forwarded to Washington.

Sen. Magnus Johnson Said He Planned to Issue Challenge to Pres. Coolidge

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 8.—Magnus Johnson, farmer-labor candidate for re-election as United States senator from Minnesota, announced in an address here last night that he is planning to issue a challenge to President Coolidge for a hay-pitching contest. Later he declared he was only "joking."

"You know I have been campaigning for three months," he said. "I have been doing so much talking that I was afraid the people would say 'why, he isn't a dirt farmer after all.' So I went back to the farm one day and pitched oats."

"Then I read in the papers that President Coolidge was up in Vermont on the farm. He raked a little hay and I guess he pitched some. So I am going to challenge him. I might come out better with the president than I did with Secretary Wallace in our milking contest. You know all about that."

GOV. SILZER NOT TO STOP WILLS-FIRPO BOUT

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 8.—Governor Silzer today announced that he would take no step to halt the Wills-Firpo fight in Jersey City Thursday night. His refusal was expressed in a letter addressed to leaders of various civic and church organizations who petitioned him last week to stop the bout.

DEATH NOT DUE TO CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE

Announcement that death was due to an accident and not because of criminal negligence of any person, is contained in an inquest report submitted by Judge Hickman in district court this morning in connection with the death of Edward Cunningham, 22, of 132 Chelmsford street, who was trapped in a cellar compartment in the establishment formerly owned by Andrew F. Roach in Bridge street during a fire there on the night of July 21.

The body of Cunningham was found by firemen suspended on a platform in the cellar of the establishment after the fire had been extinguished. It is believed, according to the inquest, that Cunningham was overcome by smoke when a slight explosion occurred during the fire.

REPUBLICANS HAVE CONTESTS

Keen Battles Being Waged for Nominations From Governor Down the List

Two Local Representative Fights Promote Interest Among Democrats

Lowell will cast a fair-sized vote today at the state primary election, but it is doubtful whether it bulks larger than 50 or 60 per cent of the registration.

The polls opened at 10 a. m. and will close at 8 p. m. The two hours between the time of opening and noon produced but little activity even in republican districts where most of the nomination contests centre. The majority of the voters who went to polling booths this forenoon were women.

The heaviest vote is expected between 5 and 5 p. m., although the bulk of the female vote will be out this afternoon.

In the democratic ranks interest locally is confined mainly to representative contests in the 14th and 16th districts. There are no fights for nomination on the state ticket and Senator David I. Walsh is unopposed as is Humphrey O'Sullivan in the Fifth congressional district.

The republican ballot, however, is congested with contests from governor right along down the list and

LEOPOLD WILLING TO WAGER ON SENTENCE

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Nathan Leopold, Jr. was ready to make a wager to-day on the sentence Judge John R. Caverly will pronounce on him and Richard Loeb tomorrow for the kidnapping and murder of Robert Frank. But a jailer interposed and told him rules of the jail would forbid.

When newspapermen called to see the prisoner today, Leopold asked one of the visitors what his opinion of the sentence was. The reply was mercurial. Then Leopold offered to make a wager. They were "not worrying," the prisoners said.

JOHN F. HARTLEY FATALLY SHOCKED WHILE AT WORK IN MILL

Was Working Electric Drill of 110 Volts When Accident Happened—Waterhead Mill Machinist Victim of Sad Accident This Morning

John F. Hartley, 65 years old, of 40 South Whipple street, died in St. John's hospital this noon in consequence of an electrical shock which he suffered while at work in the Waterhead mill, Lawrence street, about 10 o'clock this morning.

Hartley, an experienced machinist, was working an electric drill of 110 volts when the accident occurred. Mill officials attribute the accident to a short circuit in one of the wires, the contact with the electricity severely burning Hartley's hands and rendering him unconscious.

Fellow-employees immediately went to his assistance, but his condition was so serious that a hurried call was sent for the ambulance, and the injured man was rushed to St. John's hospital. The police pulmotor was pressed into service and every known respiratory method was used by hospital physicians, but without avail.

Mr. Hartley was the father of a large family. Besides his wife, Mary, he leaves to mourn his loss nine children, William, Alice, Thomas, John J., Howard, Walter, Robert, Isabel and Mrs. Mary Nugent.

Take Off From Mitchel Field in Face of 35-Mile Wind—To Drop Flowers Over Grave of Unknown Soldier as Machines Pass Arlington Cemetery

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., Sept. 8.—The world fliers who hopped off from Mitchel Field, N. Y., this morning, passed over Havre de Grace at 11:05 p. m., eastern standard time. They were flying low and at a very fast. The three leading planes were conveyed by four other planes. Havre de Grace is 76 miles by rail from Washington.

Hopped Off at 9:35

MITCHEL FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 8.—The United States army round the world fliers hopped off from Mitchel Field for Washington at 9:35 o'clock eastern daylight saving time.

The fliers took off from the field in the face of a 35-mile wind. The departure had been delayed for half an hour while Major-General Mason H. Patrick, chief of the air service, obtained weather reports from Washington by telephone. Although these reports stated that the skies were overcast and rain was threatening, the fliers decided to go.

After he had received the weather reports, Major-General Patrick conferred with Lieutenant Lowell Smith, leader of the world flight. Lieut. Smith said the fliers were anxious to be off. Major-General Patrick then approved the plan to hop off without delay.

The airmen expected to reach Washington in three or four hours unless the head winds shifted or other unfavorable weather conditions developed.

As the globe-circling machines attained altitude and headed southward, a squadron of seven smaller and speedier planes, headed by Major-General Patrick, took wing to accompany the world fliers.

The Chicago, New Orleans and Boston fliers were laden with flowers, which it was intended to scatter over the

WORK FOR EXTRA MEN ON SEWER JOBS

A plan to employ 100 additional men on the city sewer gangs, the men to work two weeks and lay off for a like time, was proposed by Frederick F. Meloy of the public service board at a special meeting yesterday afternoon. Fred Leary, acting chairman in the absence of Dennis J. Murphy, did not believe the plan would be satisfactory and Mr. Meloy finally compromised by accepting a plan to put 50 additional men to work regularly.

The meeting was called at 12:30 o'clock for the purpose of approving monthly bills. The purchasing agent requested that the board take immediate action in connection with a requisition entered some time ago for a 3½ ton truck for the water department, the award on the bids having been held up at the board's request, and stated he would award the contract without a recommendation unless the board took action at once.

At a previous meeting the board had voted to defer action on the award owing to the financial condition of the water department, and the clerk was instructed to notify the purchasing agent of this action.

Doherty, of the street department in connection with sewer work, and moved that 100 men be requisitioned for the sewer department, to work two weeks and lay off two weeks. Mr. Leary questioned the advisability of such action and said he did not believe it would meet with general favor. Mr. Meloy would not withdraw his motion, as he said he desired to do everything he could to get work for the city's unemployed. He favored this method as the best way to use the $115,000 on hand for sewer work. "There are many men on the streets," he said, "who would be only too glad to get one week's work, not to say two weeks."

Mr. Leary could not see his way in the matter and would not second the motion. A lengthy discussion followed and at its conclusion, Mr. Meloy substituted a motion that a requisition for 70 men previously voted be withdrawn and one for 150 men for sewer work substituted. This motion carried.

WERE MARRIED IN TYNGSBORO

Youth has no monopoly in love. It is always fair weather when love is supreme, for the years wither not the bounties derived therefrom. Congratulations heartily and sincere are today being extended to Mr. Arthur S. Locke, popular overseer employed at the Appleton mills, and Mrs. Lucinda J. Ramsdell, of 195 Westford street, who, on Sept. 2, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Alfred Noon, at the latter's residence on Sherburne avenue, Tyngsboro. Mr. Locke's home is at No. 9 Rhodora street, this city. Both have been married before. Mrs. Ramsdell being the widow of the late William H. Ramsdell, a former well-known machinist. The bridegroom, employed in the napping department of the Appleton mills, is a valued employee with a host of friends in Lowell textile mill circles.

LOWELL MERCHANTS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Lowell retail merchants are optimistic in regard to future business conditions in this city, although a majority of reports received indicate a falling off in retail trade during the month of August, as compared with the same month last year.

Eight merchants out of 14 report a better outlook for the coming month, while 10 report business for August less than last year. The summarized report is as follows:

General condition of retail business as compared with a month ago: Fair, 8; better, 2; poor, 4.

Volume of sales compared with year ago: Average, 4; less, 10.

Outlook for retail trade for coming month: Better, 8; fair, 4; poor, 2.

This report is made up from postal replies sent to about 40 retail merchants. Unfortunately only a small proportion of those to whom these post cards were sent, return them.

Secretary-Manager George F. Wells states that a much more reliable report could be made if every one would take the time to fill out replies to the few questions asked and return the cards.

Much interest is always shown in this monthly report that attempts to give a good idea of the general condition of business in the retail trade. The chamber organization has had many requests for copies of the "Bulletin" describing the values of these activities.

LOWELL NORMAL SCHOOL EXAMS

Examinations for entrance to the Lowell State Normal school which were held yesterday continued today and approximately 100 aspirants were present to avail themselves of the opportunity to enter when the school opens tomorrow. Although about 50 young ladies seek entrance this year through examinations, there are only 20 vacancies to be filled. Averages attained in the final examinations will determine those who are to enter tomorrow. There are about fifty girls taking the preliminary examinations which if passed will make them eligible for entrance in September next. There are already 125 who have successfully passed examinations and will be admitted this year. In all there will be about 200 young lady students admitted when the doors open tomorrow morning.

One of the opening attractions at the school this year will be an exhibit of paintings by Edwin Hoadley, art instructor at the school which will be held in the exhibit room of the school.

BOX OFFICE OPEN AT OPERA HOUSE

In preparation for the opening of the stock season of 1924-25 the box office of the Lowell Opera House was opened yesterday for the establishment of season subscription lists and the sale of tickets two weeks in advance. The Stanley James players will open the season next Monday afternoon with the presentation of "Just Married." The following week will bring "Tommy's Mariette" popular and personable female impersonator here in "The Fascinating Widow." The advance sale of seats yesterday for both shows was regarded as highly pleasing and the box office will be kept open all this week from 10 o'clock until 9 o'clock. Mrs. Germaine and Miss Champagne, who handled this office so acceptably last season have both been retained for the current season.

That Lowell theatre-goers are remaining loyal to the spoken drama was manifested by yesterday's advance sale. This morning also found a continuous traffic to the newly renovated and refurbished playhouse. The house has been put into excellent shape through a large expenditure by the new owner, Thomas F. Hennessey, and is certain to warrant the biggest season of its existence. Rehearsals were started last night and the personnel of the company will be announced within a few days.

"CARNIVAL NIGHT" AT LAKEVIEW

Tonight will be carnival night at the Lakeview ballroom and the big feature of the evening will be the carnival march. Suitable prizes will be awarded the holders of lucky tickets and souvenirs of a merry-making nature will be distributed to those participating in the carnival march. The dancing at the "Lake" is by the check system with "Broderick's" Entertainment, one of the classical musical organizations in this vicinity, providing the "peppy" melody.

Fear Ice Has Claimed Missing Arctic Boats

BY H. C. CLAY

Seattle June 25. Is in command of the schooner Maid of Orleans, which is the white ruler of the north beyond the Beaufort Sea and 1000 miles north-east of Point Barrow.

Among the nine persons on board was Miss Alice Supplee, plucky young school teacher—the first white girl to venture on a voyage to the far distant island.

The schooner was last heard from 150 miles north of Nome. She had been unable to land there on account of severe weather. It is now feared that she, too, has become marooned in the ice fields.

Captain Klingenberg, with two of his sons, made a spectacular "mush" with dogs across the snow to the mainland last spring and weeks later reached Seattle, giving the two boys their first glimpse of civilization. While in Seattle he fitted the Maid of Orleans for the northern voyage and engaged Miss Supplee as a teacher for his family. His native wife and six children and several grandchildren await his return to Victoria Land.

The world-famous coast guard cutter Bear, Captain C. S. Cochran in command, was the first ship caught in the ice this year. The renowned old veteran of two-score northern voyages fought the most desperate battle of her career and came into Nome 40 days late, badly battered, but as game as ever. An inventory of damages revealed two blades of the propeller gone and ice-bruises on the sides. Meantime, the battle with the ice continues and the fate of humans in peril remains in doubt.

SNOW STORM HITS CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Ald Jack Frost sent in his visiting card yesterday in the shape of a snow storm that continued about 15 minutes in Chicago. The first serious autumn frost is due tonight or tomorrow night. The Canadian Northwest reports below freezing temperatures with much damage to crops. Palm beach clothes and straw hats have gone into hiding for the present and delicate women are discarding the furs they have worn all summer and are now appearing in low-necked gowns. All signs point to the approach of cold weather.

ANOTHER VETERAN RACE TRACK DRIVER KILLED

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The second killing on a race track in the east within a week occurred yesterday when Tommy Hinds, a veteran of the Grand Circuit, was thrown to his death in a collision between sulkies at the New York State Fair Grounds. Hinds had just stood in silent tribute to "Pop" Geers who died of injuries after having been trampled by his horse at Wheeling, W. Va., last week. Hinds was among the Grand Circuit drivers here for the opening day who stood in front of the grandstand to observe a moment of respect in memory of Geers whom most of them had known as a close friend and companion.

JOHN W. DAVIS SPEAKS AT LOVELAND, COLO.

ESTES PARK, Colo., Sept. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—At a retreat in a little valley nestled here at almost the very summit of the Rocky mountains, John W. Davis rested today after his strenuous campaigning in the west.

The ninety miles from Denver was made by automobile and a detour was taken in order that the candidate might greet crowds at Longmont and Loveland. He had not intended to make a speech, but he found such a large gathering at Loveland that he spoke briefly from the tannery of his car after he had shaken hands with several hundred men, women and children.

THE CHINESE SITUATION No Exchange of Views Between America and Great Britain

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Contrary to reports which found their way into print today there has been no exchange of British and American views on the Chinese situation with a view to concerted action by the powers in attempting to end the civil war. It was stated today by Frederick L. Sterling, counselor of the American embassy, who is in charge of the embassy during Ambassador Kellogg's vacation in Scotland.

The report was given publicity by the Daily Telegraph through its diplomatic correspondent, who said that the initiative apparently had been taken in America, but it was understood, the subject was to receive the immediate attention of Prime Minister MacDonald and the British Foreign office.

INVESTIGATE P.O. BREAK AT BRATTLEBORO

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Sept. 9.—Burglars opened the doors of the surplus stock vault and the current supply vault in the Brattleboro postoffice this morning by using a gas torch, and in the current supply vault they blew open the safe and stole stamps worth about $6000. The safe in the surplus stock vault was tampered with but stock vault was not opened. It contained about $40,000 worth of stamps. Entrance was gained by jumping a rear window of the mailing department. The safe containing postoffice funds was not opened. The burglars, evidently professionals, can used to shield them from possible discovery. Inspectors from Springfield and Boston are expected here today. Four strangers were seen about the building twice yesterday.

WM. JENNINGS BRYAN SPEAKS FOR DAVIS

FRESNO, Calif., Sept. 9.—Warning Americans to heed the lesson in Europe where "concentrated wealth is a menace" William Jennings Bryan pleaded the cause of democracy and the candidacy of Davis and Bryan in an address here last night.

The speaker declared that he is waging a campaign without abusing personally any of the opposing candidates. The oil investigation, he said, has made more progress in a short time than anything else in the country's history.

Referring to the so-called rule of the republican party by big corporations, "through donations to the party funds paid off in legislation and favors after the election," Bryan declared the republicans had "given away enough money through favors to pay the president's salary of $100,000 a year for 10,500 years. He cited the Doherty land deal and Mellon tax bill as proof of this contention.

SOUSA MARCHES TO GET MARCH INSPIRATIONS

That Lieut. Com. John Philip Sousa actually gets the inspiration for a new march by marching was revealed recently by the famous bandmaster when he was discussing "Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company" march with the new Sousa march, which will be one of the features of his programs for the 32nd annual tour which begins in Wilmington, Delaware, on June 21, and concludes in New York city on November 16. "The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company" march was written for the famous Boston organization of that name in response to the appeal made by Governor Channing H. Cox of Massachusetts, but it, like more than a hundred Sousa marches that have gone before, was literally written on the march.

"I do not think I ever have received the initial inspiration for a march except by marching," the famous bandmaster said recently. "Perhaps the inspiration came when I was at the head of a band, either during my days in charge of the United States Marine Band in Washington, or during the World war when I took charge of the musical activities at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

"Strangely enough it is the form of musical expression at which I am most facile which I must write most on the strength of inspiration. Any other form I can work out from a given theme exactly as an essayist, for instance, develops his work from certain basic ideas. In my suites I have generally found the initial inspiration in something I have seen or from something I have read. A case in point is my new suite, 'Looking Upward.' The first movement is entitled 'By the Light of the Polar Star' and I had the idea as I was riding to a train in South Dakota, on a crisp, cold night. The second movement, entitled 'Under the Southern Cross' and the inspiration came merely from seeing an advertisement concerning a steamship of that name. The third movement is 'Mars and Venus' and the suggestion came casually, because I happened to observe those two heavenly bodies in no case was any music written down for several months. Last season I presented a suite 'At the King's Court' which represented things I once saw at court during the reign of King Edward VII. That suite was literally a piece of reporting in terms of music.

Arrangements, transcriptions, suites and even songs come to my mind naturally as I set myself to work on

CHILDREN TAKE THEM WILLINGLY

A Vermont Mother Recommends Baby's Own Tablets

No longer is it necessary to give infants and young children harsh purgatives for Baby's Own Tablets give better results and are free from any medicine taste. Children like them and take them willingly.

Mrs. W. L. Ducharme, of No. 25 West street, Barre, Vt., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and think them a splendid medicine for constipation. I can recommend them to all mothers of young children. The tablets are excellent for adults also. I have taken them myself with much benefit."

High in Nourishment

NOURISHMENT is a matter of great importance in bread, for it is this quality that determines whether a loaf is real food or merely "something to eat."

Betsy Ross is a genuinely nutritious loaf. And it is a fine eating loaf as well. You'll find it has a particularly pleasing flavor, taken from the choice ingredients we put into it. It contains the best grades of everything, and a liberal portion of milk as well. This adds to its flavor and makes it more nourishing than ordinary breads.

Old Home Potato Bread

This loaf, with its fine home-made flavor, has become a popular choice in this community. Everybody enjoys eating it, for it tastes just like the bread our mothers used to make. Such flavor isn't often found in bread, nor such rich nourishment. Try a loaf today.

I have used them as occasion required for twenty years, and my three sisters have also used them. I have always found them to be the most satisfying results. During the Change of Life I had the usual distressing symptoms, — hot flashes, insomnia, etc., — and I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the Vegetable Compound. COST OF CAPITAL CRIMES

It is reported that Judge Caverly who presided at the trial of Loeb and Leopold, the Chicago murderers, has reached a conclusion as to the finding in the case and that all that remains now for him to do is merely to pronounce the sentence.

Word comes from Chicago that the hearing on this case which, strictly speaking, was not a trial, will cost that community $600,000. Undoubtedly that is but a small fraction of the sums that have been paid privately to alienists and others engaged in the defense. The amounts paid for expert testimony by the state, of course, will be charged up to the taxpayers. This gives some idea of the manner in which crime piles up expense on the communities in which it occurs. Even this offers one good reason why it should be suppressed so far as this is possible.

But that is not the principal reason. Every man who is not a criminal has the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Every law-abiding citizen expects the government to afford him protection in that right. Crimes such as murder and robbery are assaults against society and against law and order established for the benefit of all the people.

It is remarkable how frequent such crimes have become in recent years. Chicago has a record of one murder a day, and in all probability, although we cannot quote from statistics, New York has quite as many, or perhaps even more. What is true of these great cities is also true to some extent of every other city and every community in the land. This indicates why the people demand swift punishment of those convicted of capital crimes. Such crimes in some communities are regarded as a matter of course, and cause but little interest or excitement except they come up in court in a great legal battle between the state and the defense on the question of applying the penalties of the law.

Unfortunately, it happens that only a small proportion of the criminals are caught and convicted. That is one of the great reasons why crime flourishes in some of the big cities of the country. It is doubtful, if there will be any improvement in this respect until something is done to cause punishment to fall with greater certainty upon guilt and to prevent the law's delays under which the real guilt of some of the worst criminals is often forgotten so that by the ingenuity of the lawyers employed in their defense, they can escape punishment.

The whole country is interested in the decision of Judge Caverly in the Chicago murder case. The publicity given the hearing makes it more imperative that the prisoners shall suffer the extreme penalty of the law. Otherwise capital crimes, which are now far too numerous, will receive encouragement, and professional criminals will feel greater security in committing the worst crimes on the calendar.

SPECIALIZATION

A few generations ago, when America was sparsely populated and settlers were scattered through the wilderness, every man had to be more or less of a handy man or jack-of-all-trades except in cities where he could specialize.

Specialization is an outgrowth of community life. It was discovered, for instance, that one man made better shoes than anyone else in town, and made them faster. Obviously, it was foolish for him to devote his time to anything except shoe making.

Another man could saw boards and drive nails faster. He specialized in building, and so on, until nearly every man became a specialist, trading the products of his toil for things he needed that others could make faster and better than he could.

The tendency toward specialization has increased with the passing of time. We talk about our being an "age of specialists." And yet, in our increasingly complex civilization, specialization has barely started.

When the lads of today mature to manhood, life will be very much more specialized than at present. The boy who is allowed to drift along without any definite idea of what he wants specialize on later, will strike out into the world for himself under a great handicap.

But a greater handicap lurks in the danger of opposing the line of work his instinct or his aptitudes lead him to. Some serious mistakes are made in this line but the man who has a gift for a particular calling is pretty sure to gravitate to it eventually but the delay in getting into it prevents him from attaining the highest excellence—trying to make a natural-born lawyer, for instance, become a doctor.

CANADA TRIES AGAIN

Montreal news dispatches tell us that the reform of Canada's upper house is the order of the day. Government officials announce that it will take steps without fail, next spring, to bring the matter once again before the legislative session to be called at that time.

There is only a slight hint in the familiar announcement that reveals the 1923 program, but prominent leaders in the house of commons have stated that the senate's absolute veto power over legislation originating in the commons, is to go the way of the absolute veto power of the British house of lords. In other words Canada once more starts out to secure a parliament in which the people, not the appointed senators, will rule.

During Laurier's long term as head of the conservative government in Canada, he built up a strong senate so that when the liberals were returned to power the conservatives retained control of the senate and thus the progress of legislation was blocked. The aim now is to find a means of overcoming the veto power of the senate. It is not unlikely that a rule similar to that of overcoming the veto power of the British house of lords may be adopted. If a measure passed by the commons is defeated by the lords, then the plan is to have it passed a second time by the commons and again sent to the lords for their sanction. If it is again voted down by the upper house, then the commons under the new rule can pass it a third time, after which the signature of the king will make it law. That is the method by which the British peers have been popular legislation.

A Thought

Honesty is the best policy.—Cervantes.

Painted for 10 Years

Bill Burlap was painting the house for his brother while the family looked on. At the finish his brother asked: "Think it will last, Bill?" When I painted any house," replied Bill, "I painted it for 10 years." That afternoon as Bill was shaving, a little nephew bothered him considerably so he played a practical joke on him. He took a brush and painted the boy's face. But the kid went to the hall yelling woefully: "Uncle Bill painted me. I'm painted for 10 years."

He Had His Doubts

There was a crossroads town which was considered the key to certain territory. So the local constable was appointed an enforcement agent, directed to report once a day to the telephone office for instructions and then watch the roads. The first wire he got read as follows: "Look for men in red touring car with 19 cars." The new agent read the telegram and then scratched his head. "That is funny," he mused. "Don't look like a car, would go rum-running and take along 10 gals."

You Tell One

Baggs and Jiggs met, and Baggs and Jiggs got yanked. Baggs was a man, dear boy," began Baggs, "who was so ticklish on the soles of his feet that whenever he took a bath he had to walk about afterward with his feet dry. It was the only method of foot-drying that wouldn't throw him into fits." "That's nothing," retorted Jiggs. "I used to hear at a place where the landlady was so nervous that when ever the wind blew she had to go out and grease the corners of the house with oil to keep her from screaming. It went around them."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Very Smart Man

A young wife was holding forth with great enthusiasm about her husband's mechanical knowledge and skill. "There's no use in talking," she declared. "Louis is simply wonderful. I don't believe there's another man in the world who can drive a motor car the way he can." "What has happened," asked a friend, "to you, who took a ride yesterday and went along beautifully in the car of the fact that he had forgotten some of the machinery?" "You don't need to say that," she replied. "We had gone at least 15 miles before Louis discovered that his car was missing."—Harper's Magazine.

Compromised on Car

The manager of a large firm of manufacturers was, deputed to buy a fleet of cheap cars for his company. He thought his best plan was to go straight to the head office, and was fortunate in getting an interview with the head salesman. "I have a car," said the manager, "that I think is quite a big order don't you think I ought to get some commission?" The salesman replied: "I will not take a cent of commission, but I will give you a last shot at the purchase then said: 'Well, what about a drink?' The manager shook his head. 'No, the price will not even allow for it.' 'I'll tell you what I'll do for you,' said the salesman. 'I'll throw in another car.'

Thick is the darkness.
Sunward, O sunward!
Rough is the highway—
Onward, still onward.

Down habors surely

East of the shadows,
Fading the meadows,
Spread the sweet meadows.

Upward and forward!

Upward and forward!
Sunward, O sunward!
Light is above us,
Rest is before us.

WILLIAM E. HENLEY.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The Prince of Wales is entertained and slobbered over in some big American cities until he's tired and sick, mentally and, perhaps, physically. Then he goes to the wilds of Canada. "For a good time," with promise to be able to "rough it." And what will he get there?

Will he hang his necktie and white shirt on a bush and make him a bed of pine boughs? Will he put up a tent and fry his own flap-jacks and bacon? Will he carry a canoe over a portage and paddle it through theilly rapids to the silvery lake?

Will he tramp out his own crawfish bait from the mud, and smoke a cob pipe? Will he go out among the great pines, alone, as the sun sinks below the mountains, to see, hear and feel, nature going to bed?

Will he chop and carry wood for the campfire and sit in its glow, smoking, to think and to praise God for the rhythm of wavelets upon beach pebbles, the hymn of night breezes in the dark forest, the twittering of young birds being put to sleep, the wonder of the stars, and the blessed notion of a man who is being just himself?

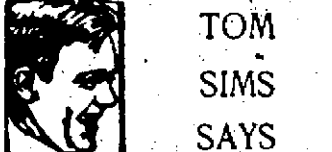

Will he get the relief, the joy of feeling "Here are just God and His great works, and myself?"
Alas! It cannot be. None of the enjoyable roughness of the wilds for him. He will be served with food, bathed and polished, his spotless clothes will be served by a professional valet from a palace, and a crowd of flunkies will spoil all the loneliness and naturalness of it.

He will be prince. He can never escape the multitude, never enjoy the pleasures of solitude.

Despite Sunday's cool atmospheric conditions, there were many people at Revere beach, it seemed, as on any Sunday in the middle of the summer. All the amusements and games were in operation, and bathers could be seen at various points along the water front. The same conditions prevailed at Lynn, Salem and other points along the North shore. The usual large number of automobile pleasure cars passed through the city. It was an ideal day for motoring.

Many "old timers" will recall Joe Dolan who used to "hang" around with the boys in the halcyon days of Middle street, when that thoroughfare was a well known residential section. I was talking with a friend of Joe's in East Boston a few days ago and learned that he is still alive and fairly active despite his 65 years of age. Although he has not lived in Lowell for a great many years, he still remembers many incidents in the lives of men well known here today. He is a shoe lace and lead pencil vendor in East Boston.

Mass. Voters Go to Polls

Coolidge, treasurer of the United Shoe Machinery corporation, are seeking nomination, and in the contest for governor. Opposing each other for the republican gubernatorial nomination are Lieut-Governor Alvan T. Fuller and State Treasurer James Jackson.

Six candidates have campaigned for republican nomination for state treasurer and eleven sought four additional places in the state ticket. Charges of "machine" methods were made by Dallinger and Coolidge after endorsement of the candidacy of Speaker Gillett for senator had been publicly announced by Governor Cox and William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee. Mr. Gillette, in reply defended as sound, the participation of the prominent citizens in public affairs.

Support of Coolidge has figured in the Dallinger and Gillette campaign both claiming to be aligned with the President, while the "wet" and "dry" issue was raised by Congressman Dallinger in the contest with Louis Coolidge, who he claims represented interests opposed to prohibition.

Both parties have contests for congressional nomination for congressman Peter F. Tague, democrat, for nomination in the tenth district. One woman and five men are competing for the republican nomination for congressman in the eighth district, the seat vacated by Congressman Dallinger in his race for senator.

Primer in Vermont

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 9.—Vermont voters were expected to attend in unusually large numbers the opening of the polls this morning for the annual primary election. The candidacy of a native son, Calvin Coolidge, for the presidency, has aroused citizens throughout the state to a high pitch of interest in political matters. Last night declared that even the primary vote this year will be far above the 67,000 total for the state in the selection two years ago.

The primary campaign has been a quiet one but the coming national contest has reflected its interest to the state candidates for governor, lieutenant-governor and congressman from one of the two districts.

Lieut. Gov. Franklin R. Billings is opposed by Roland E. Stevens of White River Junction for the gubernatorial nomination. J. Gregory Smith of St. Albans and W. H. Barnsworth of Burlington are disputing the lieutenant-governor nomination. Congressman E. W. Chittenden is expected to be re-nominated by John A. Gordon of Barre.

THE Day off

Through one cause or other, one thing or another, a man gets a day off from work. His mind can be eased; he can do as is pleased and he won't have to feel that it's a shirk.

He wakes in the morn and, as sure as he's born, he'll smile at the thought of a rest. But men, so it seems, only rest in their dreams, for with workaday habits they're blessed.

For instance, the mailman who walks all day, will rise up to do as he likes. And what does he choose as an off bit of play? Why, he spends all the day off on hikes.

And Mister Bookkeeper, who pushes a pen; what rest thought will enter his dome? He feels he is getting a needed rest when he is writing long letters back home.

Another man, maybe, sells lawn mowers all day. And then, when a rest comes to pass, he also will use one to fill up his "play" and you'll find him out cutting the grass.

It may be right true that a change does one good, but too many fellows won't let it. A man could get rest if he knew how—and would! But he seldom knows just how to get it.

TO LADY ANNE HAMILTON

Too late I stay'd,—forgive the crime!
Unheeded flew the hours;
How noiseless falls the foot of Time
That only treads on flowers!

What eye with clear account remarks
The ebbing of the glass,
When all its sands are diamond sparks,
That dazzle as they pass?

Oh, who to sober measurement
Time's happy swiftness brings,
When birds of paradise have lent
Their plumage for his wings?

NEW INDICTMENTS AGAINST FORBES

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Four hitherto suppressed indictments against Colonel Charles R. Forbes, ex-head of the United States Veterans' bureau, were made public yesterday. Col. Forbes goes to trial next Monday before Federal Judge George A. Carpenter on charges of bribery in his administration of Veterans' bureau affairs.

The indictments, which also name John W. Thompson, Chicago and St. Louis contractor, who is charged with having given Forbes a bribe, were drawn up to replace the four originally drawn last February. Charges in them are the same as those in the original bills, excepting that it is charged that Forbes was to receive part of a payment of $66,666.66 to Chas. Cramer, formerly chief counsel for the bureau, now deceased, which payment was to have been made by Thompson.

Dizzy Vance Wins 13th Straight and 25th of Season As Brooklyn Beats New York

ROBINS TWITTER FROM RAFTERS OF POLO GROUNDS AS GIANTS FALL

Seven to 2 Victory Puts Brooklyn One-Half Game Behind League Leaders—Yanks and Senators Win and Latter Retain Advantage of Two Game Lead

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Robins nestled on the pennant flag pole and twittered from the rafters of the Polo grounds today, while John McGraw sat in his dugout and speculated upon the visitation.

Wilbert Robinson led his band yesterday to the roof-raising yells of thousands of Brooklyn fans who had journeyed across the famous bridge to see the second game of the little world's series.

Dizzy Vance, stepped up on the mound and threw the fastest ball in captivity at the Giant army assembled for a final stand beneath historic Gowanus bluff; and neither Brooklyn nor New York witnesses a world's series next month, the forty thousand spectators at yesterday's battle will not have been entirely deprived of its thrill.

Vance won his thirteenth consecutive game and his 25th of the season but not before the desperate Giants had delivered a strong attack.

The Robins won, 7 to 2, and today had their hand on the pennant. The Yankees, fighting grimly to recover the two-game lead enjoyed by Washington, won at Boston, 2 to 0, as Joe Judge held the Red Sox to two hits. Pittsburgh allowed only four runs in the eighth when Dugan singled and Ruth accepted the drama of the occasion and hit his 14th homer for the first time in the game.

Washington retained its advantage, however, with Walter Johnson working easily behind an early lead for an 8 to 4 victory over the Athletics. Healer and Miller hit homers with none on base. The St. Louis-Chicago contest was postponed by rain. No others were scheduled.

Minor Leaguer After Ruth's Record

CLARENCE KRAFT
By N. E. A. Service

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 9.—Babe Ruth's home run record of 59, set in 1921, which critics said would stand for all time, may be shattered this year.

And by Clarence "Big Boy" Kraft, first baseman of the Fort Worth Panthers, and home run king of the Texas league.

Going into the game of Sept. 4, Kraft had a total of 53 four-baggers to his credit for the season. On Aug. 25 he shattered the minor league record of 43, set last year by Moses Solomon. The previous record was 15, set by Perry Warden in 1923.

Kraft, starting from Aug. 25, had 21 games left in which to hit 10 more homers to break Ruth's record. For the last two years he had always hit 30 the last 30 days of the season. He is at the top of his form right now and his chances of breaking the record are better than ever.

Fort Worth civic clubs are raising $10,000 to be presented to Kraft if he breaks Ruth's record of 59. The fans will not stand for him to be purposely passed and their howl counts some. Especially since Fort Worth has clinched the pennant.

Kraft's feat should not be looked upon lightly, for as a minor leaguer performance is as equally as great as Ruth's. Most of the parks are as large as those in the American league. Kraft is a right-handed batter and gets his drives over the left or center-field walls.

The Fort Worth slugger is not a big leaguer and probably never will be. He is only an ordinary first baseman, but at that he is the punch of the club. Kraft is a veteran. He admits 36 years and he is the same slugger who was playing with Evansville back in 1909. He came to Fort Worth in 1913.

Twilight league baseball on the South common was officially brought to a close last evening when the Centralville East Ends defeated Belmonts by a score of 4 to 1.

The Bellevues, managed by Thomas Flemings, won the City League pennant with 11 games won and one lost. The team will engage in the second game of the series with C. M. A. C. tomorrow at the Lowell, Ind., Alumni field next Saturday afternoon.

In the first encounter last week, the C. M. A. C. annexed the verdict by a 6-4 count, but the Bellevues are confident of evening up at the next meet.

Clayton Saubier, who will probably oppose Chick Turfitt, and as this will be the only big game in this vicinity on this day, a large crowd is expected.

At a meeting, held at Marie's restaurant last evening, it was voted that the second annual banquet will be held in Marie's next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The tickets will be about $2.00 each. The mayor and others will be invited to attend.

Last night's game had an East End tinge all the way. The Centralville boys scoring once in the second inning, the Centralville boys scoring once in the fifth. Phil Payton opposed Tom McDowell on the rubber and had the better of the argument. Duxley Bradbury led with the pillow, getting a home run, a double, a base hit, and a walk, connected for two-plays smashes. The score:

BIG SURPRISE IN LOCAL TENNIS FINALS

Ralph Doeg and Wasaburo Inowaka gave Doeg a great surprise last evening in the finals of the city doubles tournament when they defeated last year's title-holders, Bruce Douglas and John McSorley, and won the championship.

The Douglas-McSorley combination was the favorite when the teams went on the courts but after a few minutes play it was clear that the Japanese duo was the better team. Doeg and Inowaka were playing a brand of tennis that could not be beaten.

The first set went to the contenders, 6-2, and they repeated the score in the second set. The title-holders got into stride in the third set and, playing a hard fast game, managed to win, 1-6. Their winning point ended with a backhand, however, and the fourth went to the Doeg-Inowaka combination, 6-2.

The match officials follow: Referee, James McKay; line-men, John Conley, Joseph Reynolds; Edward Murphy and Ralph Littlefield.

Finals in the women's doubles will be played off this evening at Shedd park.

KELLY ALL STARS VS. PAWTUCKET A.A.

On Sunday, Sept. 14, the Kelly All-Stars and the Pawtucket A. A., runners-up in the City Twilight League, will meet in the formal opening of the baseball season of the Pawtucketville playground.

The All-Stars, managed by John Kelly, organizer and former manager of the Pawtucket A. A., will present a team of all-stars playing together for the first time, while the Pawtucket will have their usual strong attack. The contest will be a real test of the word for Manager Kelly, who has lost none of his men's baseball ability. It is also an interesting feature that both teams have agreed that all proceeds from the game be donated to the Building Fund of the new St. Peter's church.

Doeg and Inowaka will throw the first ball and from then on watch the fun.

St. Patrick's of Cambridge Win Over Pawtucket Blues by Score of 3 to 2

Sunday afternoon on the Woodward avenue grounds, the strong St. Patrick's baseball team of Cambridge, the leaders of the Boston Junior Twilight League, defeated the Pawtucket Blues, runners-up in the Lowell Junior Twilight League, by the score of 3 to 2 in one of the best games ever played on the grounds. To show that the Salts' team is not a flash in the pan, they have defeated the strong Harps team of Lawrence by the score of 12 to 1, and the Harps pinned defeat on Marie's Americans, 6 to 1. The game was a thriller right up until the last man was out in the 14th inning. The game was featured by pitching and holding stunts by both teams. Each team made seven hits, including a three-base drive by Burns of the Salts and a two-base hit by Sylvester of the Blues. A spectacular catch by Mahoney in deep center field off Watts' bat in the 14th inning, was the deciding factor of the game. Both teams will meet in Cambridge on Sunday, Sept. 21, at Cambridge field.

GOLDSTEIN DEFENDS HIS TITLE, BEATS RYAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Abe Goldstein, bantamweight champion of the world, is regarded in a more favorable light today following a battle of defense of his title in a 16-round battle with Tommy Ryan of McKeesport at the Queensboro A. C. last night.

Goldstein, who has been accused of playing unfairly, and who has stepped into Ryan in the latter half of the battle, exhibiting an offense more near the level of a champion than he had shown since he won the title from Joe Lynch last winter.

Goldstein carried ten of the 16 rounds and received the decision.

ST. PETER'S CADETS TO DISCUSS FOOTBALL

The old familiar club is once again sounded as the football season approaches. Now we have the first call of candidates for the St. Peter's Cadet football team. The Tuesday evening is the time, and the place will be St. Peter's school hall where the first meeting of last year's grid men and those eligible for this year's team will be held. Quinn, Kelly, Regan, Busby, Kennedick, the Hogan brothers, McGrady, and the other old favorites will be right on deck for this season and in addition many other youth of St. Peter's parish have signified their intentions in going out for the eleven this year. St. Peter's Cadets met and defeated some of the finest football eleven of their class in this section of the state last year and the management of the eleven has a hard schedule for the boys. Lowell football enthusiasts who followed with interest the eleven last year are expecting the eleven from the boys again this year and the Cadets may rest assured that they will receive plenty of backing from the public. It is expected that a large attendance will be held at this first meeting of the eleven since last fall.

GREAT INTEREST IN THE WOODS-HEBERT BOUT HORSES GATHER FOR BIG LOWELL FAIR RACES

The bout here Thursday night between Wee Willie Woods and Frankie Hebert is attracting considerable attention and ought to prove a hellion ladder with remarkable rapidity, and each disputes the right of the other to the New England flyweight title.

In a bout at Nashua this summer announced as for the New England flyweight title, Hebert decisively defeated Eddie Polo of Waterville, Me. Woods has scored two knockout victories over Polo, and hence he claims that he stripped the Maine state boy of his championship.

While many argue that to win a sectional title the participant must be a resident of that particular section, the fact remains that the coming bout will give both an opportunity to settle the claim of supremacy and in the advent of a Hebert victory he will have clear claim to the honors.

Woods is the recognized flyweight champion of Scotland, and only for his departure for the United States, would undoubtedly be the holder of the British title. He has defeated Elky Clarke, the official British flyweight champion. Clarke won his title one month after Woods sailed for America.

In a letter to The Sun, Billy Ames, celebrated manager of Woods, writes: "Woods is fine and fit, and though I look for a hard fight with Hebert, I have every confidence in our champion going readily. Woods has twice knocked out Eddie Polo, in seven and six rounds, respectively. Hebert defeated Polo on points, so the form gives us an edge."

In the semi-final Tommy Leonard will meet Irish Dan Mahoney of Cambridge. Gus Anderson will make his professional appearance in Lowell against Jackson of Lawrence. There will be another preliminary.

One of the features of the show Thursday night will be a blow-by-blow account of the fight. A huge radio set will be installed by John J. Hogan and the fight will be announced as it progresses.

Tonight in Boston Billy Murphy of Lowell will meet Lew Paluso of Salt Lake City in one of the 10-round bouts to be staged by the Army A.A. Quite a delegation of local fans will be at the ringside.

Phineas Boye is training for future bouts. He is hot on the trail of Tony Kelly, the sensational Boston fighter, "come back" artist, and feels confident that he can take the conqueror of Dundee.

Al Brown of Cleveland and Johnny Harbo of Manchester fought a sensational 10-round draw at the Armory, Manchester, N. H., last night. It was a thrilling and from beginning to end, and while Lowell fans at the ringside felt Brown had the edge, the decision was well received by the great majority. Brown injured his right arm during the early stages of the bout but he gamely fought on until the end. The bouts scheduled for the Nashua, N. H., theatre last night in which two Lowell boys were slated to perform, were postponed for a week.

The St. Joseph Cadets have left not a shadow of doubt but that they will win the Junior Twilight League title last night they defeated the Centralville Mysteries, 4 to 0.

"Pet" Richards, twirler for the Cadets, allowed the Mysteries but one hit while he struck out seven of the nine. Frechette laid out a three-bagger but was tagged trying to run it out for a homer. Laffey was deprived of an apparently sure home run by a double play. The Cadets were in the fourth when he walked three men in a line and then hit another. Two errors in the fifth and the Cadets won many runs. The score:

Six-Room Home Built on Square Plan For Simplicity and Convenience

Six-room houses are by far the most in demand by average families. Here is an out-of-the-ordinary example, combining all the convenience of the always-popular square plan with a distinctive and pleasing exterior. It requires considerable skill to achieve a well-designed exterior for a square house and this one merits special study.

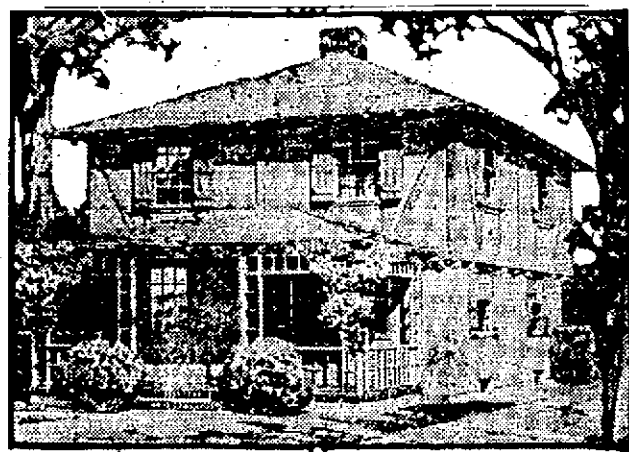

The hip roof, the large front porch, central chimney, central entrance and long living room with a stairway at one end—all these are there. The use of half-timbers and hatched shutters lend originality.

The second floor has an overhang, with brackets. Lattices rather than heavy pillars are a pleasing variation in the porch treatment.

The living room gets the benefit of windows on three sides. There is a convenient passage to the kitchen, so that one may answer the doorbell promptly. A closet in this passage may be used either for coats or as a broom-closet.

It is easy to picture the dining room pleasantly furnished, since a pair of corner china closets are built-in, with French doors between. The kitchen is small, but large enough to contain the needed equipment.

Two of the three bedrooms are cross-ventilated. Each has a large closet, and one has a built-in tray arrangement that closes behind a regular door, while another has a built-in dressing table, and a small closet in addition. The bathroom is extra large—8 feet by 7 feet 4 inches, so the large linen closet is located here, with a lowel closet near the bathtub and a medicine case over the lavatory.

This house, in the average city, should cost about $175, figuring 30 cents to a cubic foot.

BREWSTER WINS IN MAINE

Republican Elected Governor by Plurality of 30,000 Over Pattangall

Fernald, Republican, Defeats Redman for United States Senator—Heavy Vote

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 9.—Ralph O. Brewster of Portland, republican, was elected governor of Maine yesterday by a plurality of more than 30,000 over William R. Pattangall of Augusta, democrat. With returns received from 593 election precincts out of 633 in the state the vote stood:

Brewster 136,648
Pattangall 103,273

The missing precincts included the city of Bangor which is normally republican, one precinct of Portland and a number of towns which have too small a total vote to determine the result. With the same precincts and one additional Portland precinct missing, United States Senator Bert M. Fernald, republican, received a revised vote of 133,435 to 91,818 for Eugene J. Redman, democrat. The four republican congressmen were re-elected by safe margins.

Pattangall, a former attorney-general of Maine, conducted his campaign against Brewster principally on the issue of the Ku Klux Klan. In the primaries Brewster was endorsed by the Klan for the republican nomination, although he asserted that he was not a member of the Klan and had never sought its support. On the face of the primary returns Brewster was defeated by President Frank G. Farrington of the state senate by a small margin, but on a second Brewster was given the nomination. The first telegram of congratulation which he received last night came from Farrington.

Brewster spoke chiefly on state issues during his election campaign, making no mention of the Klan. Republican speakers in the campaign, however, laid their emphasis on national issues and joined the republican state committee in insisting that a vote for Brewster meant endorsement of President Coolidge.

Brewster is a lawyer and has served six years in the legislature. He is 36 years of age and was educated at Bowdoin college and the Harvard law school.

Pattangall was the democratic nominee for governor in 1922 against Percival P. Baxter, republican, and was defeated by a plurality of 38,457 in a total vote sixty thousand less than that cast yesterday.

A feature of the vote for governor was the fact that in his home ward in August Pattangall received only 273 votes to 421 for Brewster.

Chairman Butler Issues Statement
CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—William M. Butler, chairman of the National Republican committee, today in a statement declared that "we have made a clean sweep in Maine."

A republican governor has been elected by 34,000. A republican senator has been elected by 47,000. In every one of the four congressional districts of Maine republicans were elected by substantial and increased majorities.

Maine has had the largest vote ever recorded in its history, and the verdict is definite and forceful. The Maine barometer records unmistakable confidence in Calvin Coolidge and his policies, and his triumphant election.

"Only one real issue was before the voters in the Maine election—the administration of Calvin Coolidge. The people made his cause their cause. The vote is the answer."

Coolidge Wins Congratulations
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—President Coolidge today sent a message of congratulation to George Emery of Portland, Me., chairman of the republican state committee on the results of yesterday's election.

"Accept my congratulations," the president said, "on the significant and decisive victory for the republican ticket in the state of Maine."

CALLS CHILD LABOR A "SHAMEFUL EVIL"

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Child labor was denounced yesterday as "a shameful evil and economically unsound" at a meeting of ministers at the Swedenborgian church, Bowdoin street, by Rev. Worth M. Tippy, secretary of the Commission on Social Service of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. The meeting was under the auspices of the Federation of Churches of Greater Boston and Massachusetts.

The meeting was well attended. It was opened by Rev. R. C. R. of the Greater Boston Federation of Churches. He spoke of the importance of the child labor question, and presented Rev. Dr. Charles F. Rice as chairman. Prayer was offered by Rev. Henry J. Kilbourn, president of the Congregationalist Ministers' meeting.

"Child labor," said Rev. Mr. Tippy, "is a distinguished from wholesome after-school and vacation assistance in home and on the farm, stunts growth, handicaps the future and produces illiterates. Children soon lose their opportunity. Given two or three years out of school or a half dozen years of broken school work, and their chance is irretrievably lost."

"Let us not sacrifice the children to the constitution, but protect the children by the constitution. The Federal Council of Churches believes that congress can be trusted to act fairly for the control of child labor and the children of this country to administer the law wisely and considerately. Extreme legislation is not likely to pass, but if it did, would be quickly repealed. Experience with the first two enactments, too, shows that federal legislation sets minimum, not maximum, standards. After a luncheon in Chipman hall, Tremont temple, another session was held, under the auspices of Massachusetts women who favor the child labor amendment. Addresses were made by Mrs. R. O. of the Child Labor committee, Rabbi David Goldberger of Brockton, Mrs. William Tilton, State Deputy Commissioner of Labor John J. Meade, John Van Vargenewick of Jamaica Plain, and Rev. Mr. Tippy. Rev. George P. O'Connor of the cathedral, St. Peter's, there were more than 100 persons present, most of them clergymen. Fr. O'Connor said, in introducing the speakers, that there are so many phases of child labor and so many aspects of the legislation that no one should be no hesitation in expressing opinions about it.

PLAN BIG RECEPTION TO LOWELL BOY SCOUT

Eagle Scout Warren Vandenberg, the Lowell Scout council's representative at the International Jamboree held last month in Copenhagen, Denmark, will be fettered a rousing reception and welcome on his return home tomorrow. The Lowell council members have organized a committee of men prominent in scout and civil life who will greet the Lowell boy.

The committee consists of the mayor, Superintendent Hugh J. Molloy, and Henry H. Harris, principal of the high school, of which Vandenberg is a student. Rev. Dr. John J. McGarry, President John H. Lambert, Edwin J. Mellen, and Ruben White, of the Lowell council; President Edward Fisher and Secretary George F. Wells of the chamber of commerce, and Rev. Appleton Grannis.

Young Vandenberg will be met at the station on Middlesex street at 5.30 by the committee, the high school regiment, and band, and all troops of Lowell Boy Scouts. After the first greeting young Vandenberg will be escorted through Middlesex street to the headquarters of his home troop, Troop 10, on Kirk street, where a formal reception will be held. The American troop of Scouts which participated in the International Boy Scout Jamboree at Copenhagen, Denmark, arrived at quarantine, New York, late Monday afternoon. In the evening a reception was held at the Hotel Pennsylvania, at which the boys were welcomed by the mayor of New York city.

PLAN FALL AND WINTER ACTIVITIES
A very important meeting of the Altissima club of North Billerica was held last evening at the home of Mr. Thomas Barton. All members were present and much was accomplished in regard to plans being made for the coming fall and winter season. It was unanimously decided by the club to receive suggestions on plays or playlets from the public. It is quite an arduous task on the club members to choose a play for presentation that will appeal to the public. In its decision to get away from this practice last night the club members feel that many suggestions will pour in concerning different plays for presentation by the club. All suggestions, etc., should be mailed or sent to the club secretary, Miss Mary A. McCarthy, North Billerica. Pres. Myles Finnegan presided at last night's meeting and after routine and new business was attended to, adjourned until Sept. 13th. This meeting will be held at the home of Miss Helen Hayes, at which time the club will take definite steps in regard to their coming program, for the fall and winter. After the meeting, the hostess, Mrs. Barton served ices.

LOWELL WOMAN DIES AT NASHUA HOSPITAL FOLLOWING ACCIDENT

Mrs. Margaret Manseau of Fletcher Street, Fatally Injured When Automobile Collides With Street Railway Car Near Nashua Country Club

Mrs. Margaret Manseau of 173 Fletcher street this city, was fatally injured in South Nashua Sunday night when the automobile in which she was riding, collided with a street railway car. Mrs. Manseau was taken to the Nashua Memorial hospital, where she and her companions were taken in an ambulance after the collision.

The accident occurred about 10.30 o'clock last night. According to reports, the machine, owned by Mrs. Marietta Clavin and driven by her son, who is a licensed chauffeur, was proceeding along the Daniel Webster highway, when suddenly it swerved and crashed head-on into the electric car a short distance from the entrance to the grounds of the Nashua Country club.

The impact was so severe that all three occupants of the automobile were thrown out. They were in an unconscious condition when picked up and rushed to the hospital. For several hours, the victims failed to recover sufficiently to give their names, and the only means of identification were cards found in the pockets of the young men's clothing. Mrs. Manseau's name did not become known until a late hour yesterday morning when Clavin regained consciousness and gave the details of the accident. He attributed the collision to glaring headlights on an approaching machine.

After an examination at the hospital, it was found that Mrs. Manseau was suffering from two compound fractures of one leg, a fracture of the skull and numerous cuts and abrasions. Other than slight cuts and abrasions, Charles J. Clavin and Qualey were not seriously injured.

In the early edition of yesterday's Sun it was stated that the woman who was killed was Mrs. Marietta Clavin of 171 Pawtucket street. This information came to The Sun from Nashua and was of such authenticity as to give no reason for suspicion or doubt. Every effort was made to correct the error before the early edition had been run off the press, but the best result possible was correction in the later edition. Mrs. Clavin was not in the accident, although it was her machine, being driven by her son that was involved. A wrong statement as to the identity of the woman fatally injured, given out at Nashua, was responsible for the mistake.

MOSES URGES ATTACK ON LA FOLLETTE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the senate republican campaign committee, told President Coolidge today that the republican campaign attack should be centered on Senator La Follette. "There is little enthusiasm for John W. Davis," Senator Moses said, "and I confess I have not solved the enigma of the talk I hear in the middle west for La Follette. His strength is questionable, but that is where we must aim." Senator Moses predicted that the republicans would hold their senate strength and gain new members from Massachusetts, Oklahoma, Colorado and Kentucky. There is a fighting chance to win democratic seats also, he said, in Montana and Tennessee.

DETAILED MECHANICAL STUDY OF PLANES ON ALL FRONTS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Army air service experts are awaiting with growing interest an opportunity to read the wordless story of the flight around the world, written in the mechanical condition of the world cruisers at the end of their journey. The tale will be told in the course of a minute inspection which the planes will be subjected to at Rockwell Field, San Diego, after the first air trip around the earth has been completed.

The machines will be completely disassembled. Every part will be examined, measured and tested, and results of the technical study will be compared with similar records made before the planes started their amazing journey.

Experts expect the comparison to throw a flood of new scientific light upon the technical questions of airplane construction. It is expected also to insure that future American-built aircraft will be designed in accordance with exact and scientific knowledge of the strains and stresses which the machines may be called upon to endure.

The tentative schedule arranged for the squadron when it leaves Washington probably next Wednesday to fill in the gap that will complete the first air glide around the earth will carry it to its ultimate destination via Dayton, O.; Chicago; St. Joseph, Mo.; Fort Crook, Neb.; North Platte, Neb.; Cheyenne, Wyo.; Rock Springs, Wyo.; Salt Lake, Utah; Salsduro, Utah; Reno, Nev.; Sacramento, Cal.; Eugene, Ore., and thence to Seattle.

Details for the various sections of this transcontinental flight depend upon conditions as the flight proceeds.

With the flight completed at Seattle, the world cruisers will turn southward again, traveling to Rockwell Field by way of San Francisco, Santa Barbara, Santa Monica to San Diego. The machines will be surrendered by the crews which carried them around the earth, on their arrival at Rockwell Field, and be given into the hands of experts who will make a detailed mechanical study.

After this examination has been completed the machines will be re-assembled for a leisurely flight back to Washington, where they probably will be given over to the Smithsonian Institution to rest in among the exhibits denoting American enterprise assembled at that museum. They probably will be flown back to Washington by their original crews and it is then that the opportunity for ceremonies all along the line across the continent will be afforded.

WHY SHE CLOSSES HER EYES

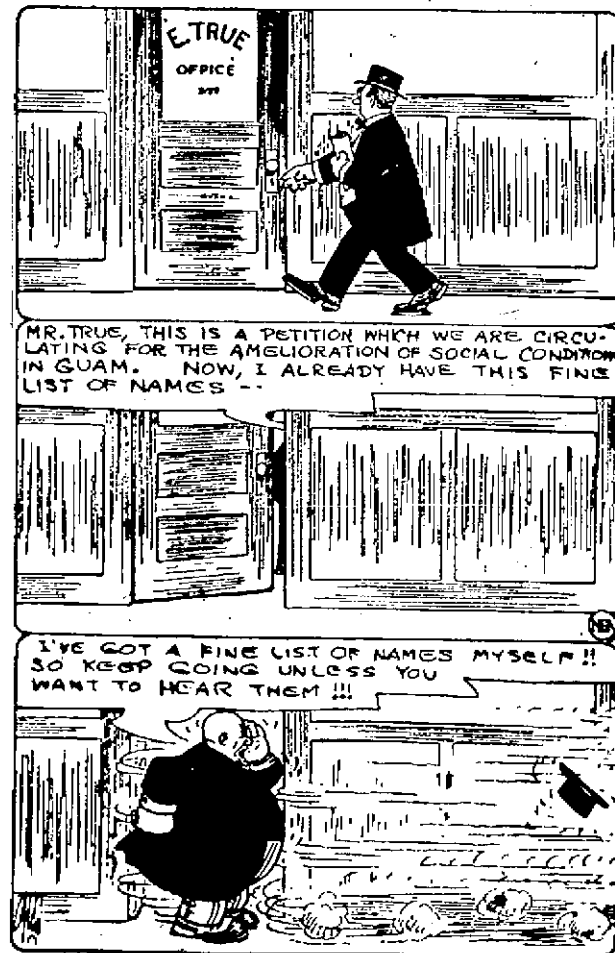

It's always an affectionate kiss that makes a girl close her eyes. And here's the reason. When the lips are drawn together, the pressure effected by contact produces sufficient heat and sensation to cause the cells in the labial nerves to vibrate with sufficient oscillation to occasion the nervous system to command the optic nerves surrounding the eyelids to make a sympathetic and responsive interlocking. At least, that's what government scientists say. But most folks think she closes her eyes because she likes it best that way!

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 19

As the native's great knife was flung forward, big branches of trees fell away and made a small opening. Jack, the captain, and the two sailors merely followed this native until he grew tired of cutting. Then Jack said he'd take a try at it. The captain took the monkey and Jack started to hack.

He had gone but a short distance until they came to an opening in the jungle. "Well, this is just the place to camp out for the night," said the young adventurer. "Oh, there might be danger of wild animals," replied one of the sailors. "We'd best keep on going a while and then sleep in trees."

This made the native guide laugh. "You needn't be afraid of the wild animals," said he, as he started spreading out leaves and brush to make a good resting place. "No animals will bother us if we keep a good fire burning. They are afraid of fire and won't come near it." (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

"Hello, Mister Coon," said Nick. "I'm ever so glad to see you." Mister Ringtail Coon stepped into the shop of "Nancy, Nick & Company," followed by his two nephews, Corby Coon and Cobby Coon, who had come to spend the fall and winter with their uncle and go to the Meadow Grove school. "How do you, Nick?" said Mister Ringtail. "I came to see if you had any suits that would fit these little rascals. And if you haven't any that will fit, can you make them some to fit? I want my nephews to look as nice as possible."

TO SAFEGUARD JUDGE CAVERLY

Final Precautions to Insure Orderly Sentencing of Leopold and Loeb

50 Policemen and Scores of Plain Clothes Men to Guard Courtroom

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Final precautions were taken today to insure the orderly sentencing tomorrow of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr. and Richard Loeb, for the kidnapping and murdering of Bobby Frank. Fifty policemen and scores of plain clothes men will be on duty outside and in the corridors of the criminal courts building to keep the crowds away. The courtroom will be closed to spectators, only relatives of the defendants and the Franks' child, attorneys, bailiffs and newspapermen will be present.

Because of the many threats received by Judge John R. Caverly, who will pronounce sentence at 9:30 a. m., central daylight saving time, special precautions for safeguarding him will be taken.

Judge Caverly issued a statement last night in which he requested that public notice be given that his opinion will be given first to newspapermen in written form and that newspapermen will appear on the streets with the sentence long before any of those outside could hear it from the courtroom. This, he hopes, will keep away crowds of curious.

LOWELL MEN TO ATTEND DETROIT MEETINGS

President Parker F. Murphy, of local No. 135, International Association of Machinists, leaves tonight for Detroit, Mich., as a delegate to the annual convention of the union labor organization. (The most important territories in both United States and Canada.)

William Larkin of Lowell, grand representative, will start for Detroit a little later in the week. President Murphy and Mr. Larkin will return home together.

Mr. Murphy makes an early start, because he was summoned to attend preliminary executive meetings of the national I. A. M. grand council. The Lowell labor leader is one of five representative officers of machinists' labor organizations honored by selection to this important administrative and advisory body.

Headquarters of the Lowell delegates will be located in Hotel Tuller, Detroit. The international organization convenes but once in four years, the last gathering of the I. A. M. being held at Rochester, N. Y. Plans are being made to hold the next convention in some city in the far west, but eastern delegates are prepared to boost some municipality nearer the eastern seaboard for the 1928 convocation of the machinists.

The national convention in Detroit will be a lengthy one, the calendar business calling for a session two weeks long. President Murphy of Local 135, will attend his first business meeting on Thursday evening, soon after his arrival in Detroit. The convention formally opens next Monday morning, sessions resuming at 10 a. m. by the preliminary conference, will be presented for action by the national delegates in organized session.

After leaving soon resumed from the North Sea when the Boston II was foundered, he sustained severe electrical burns aboard the U.S.S. Investigate Outdoor Relief System

An investigation into the new system for providing outdoor relief, inaugurated by the charity department last month, was conducted today by members of the budget and auditing commission, and satisfaction with the system was expressed by the commission following the investigation.

The commission met this morning in the city auditor's office to approve bills and the investigation was brought about when a bill was presented for approval of $64,475, by a local market, for furnishing food for the charity department's outdoor relief camps.

Members of the commission went to the charity department office to view the methods used in keeping track of expenditures. The system, according to them after the investigation, furnished a check on all expenses and was satisfactory.

In commenting on the situation, Tyler, in Stevens' chair, said that the board, said it was accurate and that the amount was expended last month for food for outdoor relief, and that in the first ten days of this month, 653 orders have been issued to the needy by the charity department.

Triumphal Procession

MITCHELL FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Two airplanes, battered by desert winds and occasional flocks of birds, were seen today, were to take the air at 9 o'clock, daylight saving time, this morning, bound for Washington. These cruises, which have written new chapters in the annals of aviation, were piloted by Lieutenants Lowell Smith and Erik Nelson. Accompanying these two vessels was another, Boston II, which at Pilot, N. S., joined the fleet to carry Lieut. Wade, companion of the aviators on the greater part of the journey, to the Mitchell Field hospital, after leaving with the formation over the Pacific ocean, Asia and Europe.

Today's flight will not be over an unexplored country, filled with strange habits and peoples who possibly have never before glimpsed "the strange metallic bird."

It will be a triumphal procession over known territory where each inhabitant is waiting to sight the passing planes, close to the journey's end. They will hover for a few minutes over Baltimore and Philadelphia before stopping down at Washington, following that, the flight will be by easy stages westward.

Dayton will be the next stop, then Chicago, afterward, in turn, St. Joseph, Mo.; Omaha, Neb.; North Platte, Neb., and other halts yet to be determined by Lieutenants Smith and Wade, until they reach their planes finally taxi to a halt on the field at Seattle, Wash., beginning and scheduled finish of the triumphal flight.

Weather reports from along the route between Mitchell field and Washington showed the skies to be overcast, cloudy, but this will not cause and departure from the plans to hop off on scheduled time.

Shortly after 3 o'clock, Major-General Patrick sent to the mayor of Philadelphia a telegram stating that the fliers expected to pass over that city between 2:30 and 10:50 a. m. standard time.

URGED TO SUPPORT ATHLETIC TEAMS

Students of the high school were urged to support their athletic teams by joining the high school athletic association, at two assemblies in the Cyrus W. Irish auditorium this morning.

The assemblies were called by Headmaster Henry H. Hart, so that the students could hear the headmaster's address on routine school matters, and he also took advantage of the opportunity to speak on behalf of the athletic association. "The association," he said, "provides for its members tickets to nearly all the games in which return tickets are sold, and it is a weekly from the members. Every student of the school who has any school spirit should join the association and lend his or her support to the team not only in a financial way but by going to the games and cheering for the High School."

Mr. Hart also spoke in connection with the school savings system and urged the pupils to learn the lesson of thrift by starting accounts in the school bank. The purpose of Defense Day was also dwelt on briefly by the headmaster and he asked on behalf of the Lowell Citizens committee the support of high school students.

ROTARIANS GUESTS OF HERBERT W. HORNE

More than 60 Lowell Rotarians left the city, bound north, shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. There was no parade to the Windham, N. H., summer camp of Brother Rotarian Herbert W. Horne. Any member started north via Pelham Center when he got ready. The parade, as Rotarians given out in advance by circular letters, instructed the members how to move straight to the door of the Horne domicile and receive the annual welcome in the annual way.

There was a feast at noon, this being a regular Rotarian meeting, and the dinner started at 12:30. The club directors held a brief session last evening, to attend to routine business on the weekly docket.

Informal sports were indulged in this afternoon on the Windham acres and lake shores. Page catered for the Rotarians' dinner and the weather was fair, with the temperature just right for a successful September outing, closing the "outdoor season" for the Rotary clubmen until next May.

LOWELL MEN AT U.S.W.V. ANNUAL CONVENTION

One of the most important national conventions in the history of the organization of the United States War Veterans Association, at Michigan City, Indiana, Commanders William J. Carroll and Lewis Hunter are representing Gen. Adelbert Ames camp, S. of V. of Lowell.

This is the twenty-ninth annual convocation of the U.S.W.V. The opening ceremonies yesterday included memorial exercises for honored members who have passed into eternal bivouac. This morning at 9:30 o'clock there was a joint session of veterans with auxiliary members, which preceded the business session of the veterans' convocation. On Thursday the convention comes to an end with elaborate patriotic exercises.

Delegates from this section of the state, expect the business sessions at the national convocation to be lively, if not quite exciting. There are numerous candidates for half a dozen important national executive positions, with Massachusetts presenting numerous candidates as of yore. Past State Department Commander Richard R. Flynn of Boston, is a candidate for national commander-in-chief, and is said to have an excellent show for election. He has the support of comrades in the field.

Plans are to be perfected following the activities of the national convocation to make a canvass of the various camps of the country at large, to furnish much needed data on the physical condition of comrades at present dispersed Spanish American war veterans are now permitted to share the hospitalization privileges accorded World War veterans.

Local War Vets Rally

Members of the Gen. Adelbert Ames camp held a result business meeting, last evening, Commander John P. McBride in the chair. Important matters of interest to veterans' circles locally, were taken up and disposed of after the usual discussions.

A report was received from John P. Cryan, who represented the camp on Lowell's "National Defense Day" general committee. The veterans voted unanimously to take part in the street parade on Sept. 12, and auxiliary members will also participate. The members of both organizations have been requested to wear uniforms, if they have any. All will meet at 4 p. m. on the North common, near Clark and Common streets.

Comrade Carroll L. Plingree reported for the Labor Day outing committee and read the list of prizes and the names of the winners. Comrade Plingree extended hearty thanks to all persons who helped to make the holiday outing so successful in every way. Donors of many gifts were also personally thanked.

Comrade Charles F. Rogers has been appointed to membership on the pending committee in place of Bert W. Chandler resigned. The camp members accepted the latter member's retirement with regret, tendering a letter of thanks and best wishes.

The Spanish-American war veterans are planning to observe the anniversary of the sinking of the battleship Maine, Feb. 15, 1898, by a local camp committee already working on the program.

Republicans Have Contests

Including the triangular senatorial battle between Louis A. Coolidge, George W. Wallinger and Frederick H. Gillett. There is every prospect for a large republican turn-out, but it is not believed it will materialize to more than 75 per cent of its full strength.

There is more than usual interest in the fight between Lowell and Allen in the thick of the fight for republican nominations. Dr. Otis Allen is a candidate for nomination as state treasurer and Abel R. Campbell seeks nomination as counselor from the 15th district. In both cases, nomination is equivalent to election for there is no democratic candidate.

Lowell republicans in the 15th representative district, comprising four of the city's largest wards, 3, 6, and 8, found the names of Charles H. Slowey, secretary of the Lowell Republican Club, on the ballot, including the three present incumbents, Representatives Henry Aehn, Jr., Victor F. Jewett and Fred O. Lewis. The four others who seek to break into the game are Adelbert Ames, Frederick H. Gillett, William V. Vignante and William D. Blanchard. This district will poll by far the heaviest vote in the city.

In the 14th district, where democrats have a distinct edge, Representatives Owe F. Freeman and Charles H. Slowey seek re-nomination. They are opposed by Patrick Nestor, Eugene A. Fitzgerald and Richard J. Donohoe, democrats, and Harry Leavitt and John P. McCarthy, republicans. The democratic vote in the three wards of this district, 1, 2 and 9, is expected to be heavy.

Thomas J. Corbett is not a candidate for re-election in the 16th district and his place is being sought by Charles F. Donohoe and Charles H. Slowey. With the one man to be nominated, there will be two other candidates, running as independents on election day—Daniel F. Moriarty and Paul J. Angelo.

The primary campaign came to a close in the city last night with rallies for Alvan T. Fuller and James Jackson, republican gubernatorial opponents, on city hall steps. A crowd of between 200 and 300 men and women were present. The Fuller rally was held first, with Frank R. Batchelder of Worcester as the principal speaker. He was introduced by William J. White, Jr., local attorney.

The first speaker at the Jackson rally was Hon. John J. Harrington, also of Worcester. He was introduced by Col. Charles A. Stevens, Gen. Gardner W. Pearson and Walter W. Wardwell, candidate for county commissioner, both spoke in favor of the candidacy of Frederick W. Dallinger for senator.

The Memorial Auditorium trustees had made arrangements to open the main auditorium for the use of candidates who wished to speak there, but as no applications for speaking had been received, the building was not opened.

The South American, One of Finest Boats on Great Lakes, Destroyed by Fire

Explosions of Oil Tore Out Portions of Hull and Endangered Lives of Firemen

HOLLAND, Mich., Sept. 8.—The steamship South America, one of the finest passenger boats on the Great Lakes, virtually was destroyed by a fire which broke out early this morning while the boat was in drydock for the winter here. The crew of sixteen negroes, which has been cleaning the boat since it came into dock here five days ago, escaped.

The cause of the fire, which started amidships near the engine room, was undetermined. The boat, an oil burner, had 600 gallons of fuel oil stored near where the fire started, and explosions of oil tore out large portions of the hull and endangered the lives of the men fighting the blaze along the close of night. His afternoon, the shore near the burning boat were ignited by embers blown by a stiff wind, but all were extinguished without serious damage. A warehouse, under construction near the drydock, however, caught fire, and was badly damaged, as was the drydock, which had been recently completed at a cost of $30,000. The total loss had not been estimated early today. The value of the boat was placed at $500,000.

H. S. FOOTBALL SQUAD AT ALUMNI FIELD

The High school football squad, numbering nearly 100 boys, is holding its first practice today at Alumni field under the direction of Coach "Jimmie" Liston.

The boys were given uniforms at the close of school this afternoon and met on the square on the 215 car for the park. Today's practice session was light, consisting mainly in setting up exercises and trying out the football, and a little punting.

Coach Liston is well satisfied with the appearance of the boys today and is especially well pleased that a large number of last year's junior high school football players are out for practice and anxious to make the high school team. These boys have had considerable experience and the coach is of the opinion that they will furnish good material to fill gaps in the lineup.

Practice sessions will be held daily from now until the first game, Sept. 27, Saturday morning. Coach Liston plans to give out the signals and on Monday the squad will split up into teams and scrimmage begun. By the end of next week he expects to have a good variety team chosen.

Among the candidates for the team are: John, Littlefield, Gilman, White, McNeil, and others. The team will be named previously, the following were at practice today: Vin, Coniff, Ansara, Keefe, Brownham, Brunell, and others. Reinforcements Thrown Into the Fray by Both Sides—
1100 Troops From 22 Warships in Harbor Landed to Protect Foreign Settlement

SHANGHAI, Sept. 9.—(By the Associated Press.) While the preliminary battles in China's civil war continued today with renewed intensity in the vicinity of the prize city of Shanghai, Chang Tso-Lin, warlord of Manchuria, and Wu Pei-Fu, military head of the Peking government, entered their forces to meet in the main contest, a fight for control of the central government of China.

It was apparent that the fighting was being brought closer to the city by the invading forces.

Warned by being west of here, at Nansiang, 12 miles from the city, foreign governments landed 1,100 troops from 22 warships stationed in the harbor, at daybreak today and were ready to defend the foreign settlement should it come within the line of fire before nightfall.

Fighting was carried on today at three points on the 100-mile front west and south of Shanghai. While no decisive action took place, reinforcements were thrown into the fray by both sides.

Defenders Regain Ground

SHANGHAI, Sept. 9.—(By the Associated Press.) The Chinese forces defending Shanghai against the Kiangsu troops have regained all the ground they had lost in the Liuh sector, northwest of this city, it was announced here late today.

Heavy rain stopped the fighting this evening, in accordance with the Chinese military tradition that fighting can be done only in good weather.

Announcement of the successful counter-attack near Liuh was made at the Lungwha headquarters of the Chang forces after two major battles had engaged the troops for several hours.

Both battles, representing counter-attacks by the Chokien troops against the invading Kiangsu forces, were started at noon. One, in the Shanghai-Nanking railway sector, was Continued on Page Ten

JOHN F. HARTLEY FATALLY SHOCKED WHILE AT WORK IN MILL

Was Working Electric Drill of 110 Volts When Accident Happened—Waterhead Mill Machinist Victim of Sad Accident This Morning

John F. Hartley, 65 years old, of 40 South Whipple street, died in St. John's hospital this noon in consequence of an electrical shock which he suffered while at work in the Waterhead mill, Lawrence street, about 10 o'clock this morning.

Hartley, an experienced machinist, was working an electric drill of 110 volts when the accident occurred. Mill officials attribute the accident to a short circuit in one of the wires, the contact with the electricity severely burning Hartley's hands and rendering him unconscious.

Fellow-employees immediately went to his assistance, but his condition was so serious that a hurried call was sent for the ambulance, and the injured man was rushed to St. John's hospital. The police, who were pressed into service and every known respiratory method was used by hospital physicians, but without avail.

Mr. Hartley was the father of a large family. Besides his wife, Mary, he leaves to mourn his loss nine children, William, Alice, Thomas, John, J. Howard, Walter, Robert, Isabel and Mrs. Mary Nugent.

WORLD FLIERS OFF FOR WASHINGTON

—TO CROSS CONTINENT IN 10 DAYS

Take Off From Mitchel Field in Face of 35-Mile Wind—To Drop Flowers Over Grave of Unknown Soldier as Machines Pass Arlington Cemetery

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—A forced landing at Aberdeen, Md., 70 miles north of Washington, interrupted the New York-Washington lap of the army world flight today. Fog over the bay and marsh region about Aberdeen, the army ordnance proving grounds, compelled the fliers who with their escort had battled against head winds all the way from New York to come to the ground for re-fueling.

President Coolidge and his cabinet, with Mrs. Coolidge and the cabinet ladies, were at Bolling Field early to greet the air heroes on their arrival. As word came that they were delayed, the president decided to stick it out, abandoning luncheon engagements.

He had already waited for hours at the field, despite rain and mist.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Sept. 9.—The world fliers passed over here on their trip to Washington at 10:15 p. m., daylight time.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—The world fliers passed over northeast Philadelphia at 11:50 a. m. They passed directly over city hall at 12:03 p. m.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 9.—The world fliers passed over Wilmington at 12:32 p. m., daylight time.

ELKTON, Md., Sept. 9.—The world fliers passed over Elkton at 11:52 o'clock eastern standard time.

Hopped off at 9:30
MITCHEL FIELD, N. Y., Sept. 9.

—The United States army round-the-world fliers shopped off from Mitchel Field for Washington at 9:35 o'clock eastern daylight saving time.

The fliers took off from the field in the face of a 35-mile wind. The departure had been delayed for half an hour while Major-General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the air service, obtained weather reports from Washington by telephone. Although these reports stated that the fliers would overcast and rain was threatening, the fliers decided to go.

After he had received the weather reports, Major-General Patrick conferred with Lieutenant Lowell Smith, leader of the world flight. Lieutenant Smith said the fliers were anxious to be off. Major-General Patrick then approved the plan to hop off without delay.

The fliers expected to reach Washington in three or four hours unless the head winds shifted or other unfavorable weather conditions developed.

As the globe-circling machines attained altitude and headed southward, a squadron of seven smaller and speedier planes, headed by Major-General Patrick, took wing to accompany the tourists to Bolling Field.

Drop Flowers On Grave of Unknown Soldier

The Chicago, New Orleans and Boston fliers were laden with flowers, which it was intended to scatter over the grave of the unknown soldier.

MAINE RESULT AFFECTS STOCKS

Spirited Bidding for Stocks
Was Wall Street's Reaction to Maine Elections

Opening Liveliest Since One Following Extra Dividend by U. S. Steel Corp.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Spirited bidding for stocks, many of which advanced 1 to 4 1/2 points at the opening, was Wall street's reaction today to the Maine elections.

Prices had been on the down grade for about two weeks with the result that approximately one-third of the advance registered since the bull movement started in June had been cancelled. The decline was attributed in many quarters to political uncertainties with speculations over the result of the Maine elections as an important factor.

The opening was one of the liveliest since following the unexpected declaration of an extra dividend by the United States Steel corporation last fall.

All three voters were greeted by Inspector John J. Martin, who gave each the ballot asked for and checked the names in the usual way.

DEATH NOT DUE TO CRIMINAL NEGLIGENCE

Announcement that death was due to an accident and not because of criminal negligence of any person, is contained in an inquest report submitted by Judge Pickman in district court this morning in connection with the death of Edward Cunningham, 29, of 122 Chapel street, who was trapped in a cellar compartment in the establishment formerly owned by Andrew F. Roach in Bridge street during a fire there on the night of July 24.

The body of Cunningham was found by firemen suspended on a platform in the cellar of the establishment after the fire had been extinguished. It is believed, according to the inquest, that Cunningham was overcome by smoke when a slight explosion occurred during the fire.

SEWER JOBS

Employ 100 additional men

The sewer department is now employing 100 additional men to work on the sewer system. The men are to be employed for two weeks and lay off two weeks. Mr. Seary questioned the advisability of such action and said he did not believe it would meet with general favor. Mr. Meloy would not withdraw his motion, as he said he desired to do everything he could to get work for the city's unemployed. He favored this method as the best way to use the $115,000 on hand for sewer work. "There are many men on the streets," he said, "who would be only too glad to get one week's work, not to say two weeks."

Mr. Leary could not see his way in the matter and would not carry the motion. A lengthy discussion followed and at its conclusion, Mr. Meloy substituted a motion that a requisition for 70 men previously voted be withdrawn and one for 100 men for sewer work substituted. This motion carried.

WERE MARRIED

IN TYNGSBORO

Youth has no monopoly in love. It is always fair weather when love is supreme, for the years wither not the bounties derived therefrom. Congratulations hearty and sincere are today being extended to Mr. Ar-

Averages attained in the final examinations will determine those who are to enter tomorrow. There are about fifty girls taking the preliminary examinations which it passed will make them eligible for entrance in September next. There are already 125 who have successfully passed examinations and will be admitted this year. In all there will be about 300 young lady students admitted when the doors open tomorrow morning.

One of the opening attractions at the school this year will be an exhibit of paintings by Edwin Hoadley, art instructor at the school which will be held in the exhibit room of the school.

MARCH INSPIRATIONS

That Lieut. Com. John Philip Sousa actually gets the inspiration for a new march by marching was revealed recently by the famous bandmaster when he was discussing "Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company" the new Sousa march, which will be one of the features of his programs for the 32nd annual tour which begins in Wilmington, Delaware, on June 21, and concludes in New York city on November 16. "The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company" march was written for the famous Boston organization of that name in response to the appeal made by Governor Channing D. Cox of Massachusetts, but it, like more than a hundred Sousa marches that have gone before, was literally written out of his head. "I do not think I ever have received the initial inspiration for a march except by marching," the famous bandmaster said recently. "Perhaps the inspiration came when I was at the head of a band, either during my days in charge of the United States Marine Band, in Washington, or during the World war when I took charge of the musical activities at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. "Strangely enough it is the form of musical expression at which I am most facile which I must write most on the strength of inspiration. Any other form I can work out from a given theme exactly as an essayist, for instance, develops his work from certain basic ideas. In my suites I have generally found the initial inspiration in something I have seen or from something I have read. A case in point is my new suite, "Looking Upward." The first movement is entitled "By the Light of the Polar Star" and I had the idea as I was riding to a train in South Dakota, on a crisp cold night. The second movement is entitled "Under the Southern Cross" and the inspiration came merely from seeing an advertisement concerning a steamship of that name. The final movement is "Mars and Venus" and the suggestion came casually, because I happened to observe those two heavenly bodies. In no case was any music written down for several months. Last season I presented a suite "At the King's Court" which represented things I once saw at court during the reign of King Edward VII. That suite was literally a piece of reporting in terms of music. Arrangements, transcriptions, suites and even songs come to my mind naturally as I set myself to work on

AT GOLDEN COVE

The Lowell fair management announces that the poultry show, which will be a notable feature of the coming agricultural exhibition at Golden Cove park, will be larger than the one presented for public inspection last year. A large tent has been erected for the display of the poultry entrants. Percy M. Kimball of Chelmsford, one of the best known handlers of poultry in the country, will have entire charge of the show. Practically every breed of poultry included in the American Poultry association's registration lists, will be exhibited at Golden Cove. With the arrival of fair season on the last three days of this week, the general committee announces that one of the best attractions of the fair will be the horse racing on the Cove track, which has been made ready for fast driving and is in excellent condition. There are to be eight classes, and Secretary Frank E. MacLean announces that each class has filled well. All of the 34 stalls at the track are occupied by horses from all over New England. Chelmsford band will play each day and evening, during the continuance of the fair. There is to be a midway of large proportions, with plenty of refreshment booths.

OPENING OF PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

St. Patrick's Boys' school in Suffolk street and St. Patrick's Girls' school in Fenwick street were opened this morning when one of the heaviest enrollments was admitted. The high school department of the Immaculate Conception school was also opened this morning at 8 o'clock. Michael's school and in both cases record classes were admitted.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING: The first meeting of the fall-winter season of the Business and Professional Women of Lowell will be held this evening in Middlesex hall. A dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock, following which Lewis E. MacBryne will talk of his experiences in Europe during the summer. A musical program with Mrs. E. L. Roberts as soloist, will also be given.

But I have to go out and march in order to write a new march. Sousa is being brought to Lowell by the Steiner Concert Series, and will give one performance on Monday evening, September 22, at the Lowell Memorial Auditorium. Reservations may now be made at the Steiner store, 130 Merrimack street.

A Vermont Mother Recommends Baby's Own Tablets

Castor oil was once the universal laxative for children. It was harsh, disagreeable and nauseating. Children disliked it and fought against taking it. No longer is it necessary to give infants and young children harsh purgatives for Baby's Own Tablets give better results and are free from any medicine taste. Children like them and take them willingly.

Mrs. W. L. Ducharme, of No. 25 West street, Barre, Vt., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets and think them a splendid medicine for constipation. I can recommend them to all mothers of young children. The tablets are excellent for adults also. I have taken them myself with much benefit."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by all druggists or will be mailed on receipt of price, twenty-five cents per box by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. With every package is wrapped a booklet, "The Care of the Baby in Health and Sickness."—Adv.

There is a frontage of 533 feet on Thorndike Street and 510 feet on Hale Street, making a combined frontage of 1043 feet on the two streets. In rear property extends about 429 feet on main lines of Boston & Maine and New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroads. The building No. 2 in photo is three stories, brick and granite, 47 by 85 feet, also lighted by electricity, and heated by steam. Building No. 1; the workshop, is of two stories, of brick construction, with open floors, electrically lighted, and steam heated. The residence, No. 4 in photo, is of three stories in granite, thoroughly modern, containing fourteen rooms. The stable, No. 5, is a two-story brick structure. All buildings, excepting No. 2, the workshop, have roofs of the finest quality slate. The entire property is situated within 1200 feet of the Boston & Maine Passenger Station, three minutes from Court House and six minutes from Postoffice. The disposal of these holdings is probably the most important auction sale ever held in Middlesex County. Splendidly Adapted for the Following Purposes:

The buildings are adapted for the following purposes: (1) Cotton Storage Warehouse; (2) Storage for files and papers of large corporations, lawyers, architects, accountants and other professional men who now pay costly rentals in Boston for floor space devoted to such storage purposes; (3) Remodel for factory purposes; (4) Hotel; (5) Educational or institutional purposes; (6) Hospital; (7) Garage. The lot area of 231,656 square feet is desirable for factory location, dwellings or apartment houses, coal terminal, automobile salesrooms and warehouse. High in Nourishment

NOURISHMENT is a matter of great importance in bread, for it is this quality that determines whether a loaf is real food or merely "something to eat."

Betsy Ross is a genuinely nutritious loaf. And it is a fine eating loaf as well. You'll find it has a particularly pleasing flavor, taken from the choice ingredients we put into it. It contains the best grades of everything, and a liberal portion of milk as well. This adds to its flavor and makes it more nourishing than ordinary breads.

Old Home Potato Bread

This loaf, with its fine home-made flavor, has become a popular choice in this community. Everybody enjoys eating it, for it tastes just like the bread our mothers used to make. Such flavor isn't often found in bread, nor such rich nourishment. Try a loaf today.

UNCLE SAM SAYS "GO TO SCHOOL REGULARLY"

BY LEWIS A. KADACH, Assistant U. S. Commissioner of Education.

At the opening of another school year the United States bureau of education sends greetings to all school children throughout the United States.

Upon the proper education of the children of today will depend the progress and safety of our country in the future. You should, therefore, make full use of the educational facilities provided, so you may receive the best and broadest education possible.

You should aim to attend regularly.

What is health?

When people greet you with a smile and bright eyes flash your way, and your work goes with a snap and life is all opportunity—that is health. Safeguard health and get more joy out of life by using from the beginning to the end of the term and remain in school as many years as possible.

We are now spending more than one and one-half billion dollars yearly on schools of the United States, and a considerable part of that sum is practically wasted on account of irregular attendance of pupils.

Again we urge you to go to school regularly.

Education pays in dollars and cents as well as in other ways.

FIRE IN LIBERTY STREET

Box 313 at 7:32 o'clock this morning was for a partition fire in the residence of Israel Bernstein at 146 Liberty street. The fire originated in a closet in the rear of the kitchen. The blaze evidently had considerable headway before it was discovered, for when the firemen arrived the partition was a mass of flames and the fire had eaten into the bathroom on the second floor. No difficulty was experienced in extinguishing the fire, however, and the recall was sounded at 7:58.

PROPOSE CHANGES AT ISOLATION HOSPITAL

At a meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon, Dr. Francis R. Mahony, board chairman, declared for a rearrangement in the duties of the administration of the isolation hospital, saying he favors confining the present superintendent, Dr. Forster Smith, to administrative work only, the dismissal of Mrs. Smith as matron and the appointment of a staff of four visiting physicians to be in charge of the medical needs of the institution.

This statement came as result of a motion by Fisher Pearson of the board, to the effect that the duties of Dr. John N. Drury at the hospital be discontinued.

Dr. Mahony and Dr. Pierre Brunelle said they would accept Mr. Pearson's motion temporarily, but would consider and keep in mind a plan for the rearrangement of the duties of the superintendent, to be gone into in more detail at a later date.

In presenting his motion Mr. Pearson said that Dr. Smith now has recovered from the illness which made Dr. Drury's connections with the hospital necessary last spring and for the purpose of promoting harmony he felt the visits of the latter now can be dispensed with.

"If I do not want my motion to sound as if it means a discharge for Dr. Drury," said Mr. Pearson, "but I think his services at the hospital ought to be discontinued."

After accepting the motion, Chairman Mahony said he would allow Dr. Smith to continue as at present for the time being, but agreed with Dr. Brunelle that a visiting staff of physicians would meet with his approval and he stands ready to give it further consideration.

FROM PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Bradford Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Phoebe, Virginia.—"Having this opportunity I just cannot refrain from saying a word of praise for the Lydia E. Pinkham medicines. I have used them as occasion required for twenty years, and my three sisters have also used them, and always with the most gratifying results. During the Change of Life I had the usual distressing symptoms,—hot flashes, insomnia, etc.—and I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the Vegetable Compound. I heartily recommend it to any woman and I will be pleased to answer any inquiries that might be sent to me through the publication of my testimonial."—Mrs. H. L. BRADFORD, 109 Armistead St., Phoebe, Va.

Consider carefully Mrs. Bradford's letter. Her experience ought to help you. She mentions the trials of middle age and the wonderful results she obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you are suffering from nervous troubles, irritability, or if other annoying symptoms appear and you are blue at times, you should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For sale by druggists everywhere.

The local street railwaymen's union held an important meeting at 10 o'clock today, and another is scheduled for this evening at 8 o'clock.
The statements of Sen. Halliwell of the Bristol district appearing in The Sun in defense of Sen. Howard's labor record, with particular reference to his stand on the 8 in 11 bill, are disputed by local carmen. As a result, Powers of the Lowell union sent an immediate inquiry to Sec. William T. Egan of the Mass.
legislative committee of the street railway men, seeking official information on the subject.

The following letter, sent special delivery, was received by Mr. Powers today:

Mr. Thomas F. Powers,
President Local Division No. 280,
Lowell, Massachusetts.
Dear Sir and Brother: In regard to the information you requested as to how Senator Howard of the seventh
Middlesex District voted on House Bill 780, (our eight and eleven hour bill) I wish to state that Senator Howard on May 22nd is recorded as voting in favor of Senate Resolution 516
(a bill which you know was substituted for the purpose of defeating House Bill 780).

There is only one way that his action can be constructed; that is, he was against our bill and would have so voted if his vote were needed.
Trusting this information will be satisfactory, I remain
Fraternally yours,
W. EGAN, Secretary.

LABOR'S ACTIVITIES IN BEHALF OF LA FOLLETTE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Co-ordination of organized labor's campaign activities in behalf of the La Follette-Wheeler ticket will be in the hands of a committee to be appointed by Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. The committee also will endeavor to conduct a systematic financial campaign and to turn over to the La Follette campaign the resources of trade unions in the way of organizers and speakers.

Plans for systematizing union labor's efforts in the campaign were made at a conference attended by 22 labor leaders which came to a close here late yesterday. Senator La Follette addressing the group declared he believed he and his running mate, Senator Wheeler of Montana, as the situation now shapes up, have an even chance to win in the coming election.

CHIEF EVENTS ON PRINCE'S PROGRAM

SYOSSET, N. Y., Sept. 9.—A game of polo in the morning and a trip to Meadowbrook club to see the international polo match in the afternoon were the chief events on the program of the Prince of Wales today. He wants to get in as much polo play as possible while on Long Island, for his plans for the next 13 months are such as to virtually exclude the game.

her husband, Carmello, whose bullet-riddled bodies were found at dawn in their dingy little Bowery home.

In the place box was the body of Giuseppe Gandolfo, the bride's father, who had been killed by an automobile several hours before detectives learning of the dual murder, had scattered in search of him as the slayer. Gandolfo, the police said, apparently died yesterday while the hunt for him was on, his body lay in the morgue, un-

Paternal jealousy is believed to have driven Gandolfo to shoot his daughter and her husband, after they returned following their elopement to Hartford, Conn., where they married contrary to his wishes.

COST OF CAPITAL CRIMES

It is reported that Judge Caverly who presided at the trial of Loeb and Leopold, the Chicago murderers, has reached a conclusion as to the finding in the case and that all that remains now for him to do is merely to pronounce the sentence.

Word comes from Chicago that the hearing on this case which, strictly speaking, was not a trial, will cost that community $600,000. Undoubtedly that is but a small fraction of the sums that have been paid privately to alienists and others engaged in the defense. The amounts paid for expert testimony by the state, of course, will be charged up to the taxpayers. This gives some idea of the manner in which crime piles up expense on the communities in which it occurs. Even this offers one good reason why it should be suppressed so far as this is possible.

But that is not the principal reason. Every man who is not a criminal has the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Every law-abiding citizen expects the government to afford him protection in that right. Crimes such as murder and robbery are assaults against society and against law and order established for the benefit of all the people.

It is remarkable how frequent such crimes have become in recent years. Chicago has a record of one murder a day, and in all probability, although we cannot quote from statistics, New York has quite as many, or perhaps even more. What is true of these great cities is also true to some extent of every other city and every community in the land. This indicates why the people demand swift punishment of those convicted of capital crimes. Such crimes in some communities are regarded as a matter of course, and cause but little interest or excitement except they come up in court in a legal battle between the state and the defense on the question of applying the penalties of the law.

Unfortunately, it happens that only a small proportion of the criminals are caught and convicted. That is one of the great reasons why crime flourishes in some of the big cities of the country. It is doubtful, if there will be any improvement in this respect until something is done to cause punishment to fall with greater certainty upon guilt and to prevent the law's delays under which the real guilt of some of the worst criminals is often forgotten so that by the ingenuity of the lawyers employed in their defense, they can escape punishment.

The whole country is interested in the decision of Judge Caverly in the Chicago murder case. The publicity given the hearing makes it more imperative that the prisoners shall suffer the extreme penalty of the law. Otherwise capital crimes, which are now far too numerous, will receive encouragement, and professional criminals will feel greater security in committing the worst crimes on the calendar.

SPECIALIZATION

A few generations ago, when America was sparsely populated and settlers were scattered through the wilderness, every man had to be more or less of a handy-man or Jack-of-all-trades except in cities where he could specialize.

Specialization is an outgrowth of community life. It was discovered, for instance, that one man made better shoes than anyone else in town, and made them faster. Obviously, it was foolish for him to devote his time to anything except shoe making.

Another man could saw boards and drive nails faster. He specialized in building, and so on, until nearly every man became a specialist, finding the products of his toil for things he needed that others could make faster and better than he could.

The tendency toward specialization has increased with the passing of time. We talk about our being an "age of specialists." And yet, in our increasingly complex civilization, specialization has barely started.

When the kids of today mature to manhood, life will be very much more specialized than at present. The boy who is allowed to drift along without any definite idea of what he wants to specialize on later, will strike out into the world for himself under a great handicap.

But a greater handicap lurks in the danger of opposing the line of work his instinct or his aptitudes lead him to. Some serious mistakes are made in this line but the man who has a gift for a particular calling is pretty sure to gravitate to it eventually but the delay in getting into it prevents him from attaining the highest excellence—trying to make a natural-born lawyer, for instance, become a doctor.

CANADA TRIES AGAIN

Montreal news despatches tell us that the reform of Canada's upper house is the order of the day. Government officials announce that it will take steps without fail, next spring, to bring the matter once again before the legislative session to be called at that time. There is only a slight hint in the familiar announcement that reveals the 1925 program, but prominent leaders in the house of commons have stated that the senate's absolute veto power over legislation originating in the commons, is to go the way of the absolute veto power of the British house of lords. In other words Canada, once more starts out to secure a parliament in which the people, not the appointed senators, will rule.

During Laurier's long term as head of the conservative government in Canada, he built up a strong senate so that when the liberals were returned to power the conservatives retained control of the senate and thus the progress of legislation was blocked. The aim now is to find a means of overcoming the veto power of the senate. It is not unlikely that a rule similar to that of overcoming the veto power of the British house of lords may be adopted. If a measure passed by the commons is defeated by the lords, then the plan is to have it passed a second time by the commons and again sent to the lords for their sanction. If it is again voted down by the upper house, then the commons under the new rule can pass it a third time, after which the signature of the king will make it law. That is the method by which the British peers have been popular legislation.

SAVE THE CHILDREN

In a joint campaign, the Safe Roads Federation and the Massachusetts Safety Council are urging parents to keep their children off the highways and out of the path of auto travel during October which is regarded as the most dangerous month of the year for automobile accidents.

Owing to the change from the daylight saving schedule, twilight comes when the big truck traffic is at the highest, and highways, therefore, most congested and dangerous. Moreover, slippery streets due to the rain and falling leaves, cause skidding which often carries the danger where it is least expected.

It is well to heed such warnings, as otherwise the number of fatalities, due to motor accidents, will rise to higher levels. Last week the number of deaths due to such accidents in this state was 25. That was eleven more than the number killed during the previous week; and judging from the number of accidents reported Sunday, if the same proportion be maintained during the present week, the total fatalities will be quite alarming. It is high time to call a halt on the recklessness that results in such a high death rate from motor accidents.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Premiers MacDonald and Herriot are making progress toward organizing the nations of Europe for peace and the prevention of war. The recent meeting of the League of Nations adopted a resolution calling for the settlement of all international disputes by compulsory arbitration. That means that some plan must be adopted to enforce the compulsion. This point has not yet been settled but it is likely to be effected by some method short of the plan provided in Article X of the constitution. Europe is evidently arranging to have all the powers join and subscribe to the principle of arbitration, thus making it voluntary. Instead of compulsory which would be a much better arrangement.

THE WORLD FLIERS

It is quite probable that the world fliers did not realize that their feat of circling the world would bring them such fame. Indeed they do not yet realize that they have performed a world feat that will go down in history to mark the first step toward international communication by airplane. The fliers who landed in Boston Saturday, have performed a wonderful feat and with remarkable safety. Indeed they have brought the nations of the earth closer together than ever before, and they have demonstrated the vast possibilities of aviation as applied to rapid transit in passing from nation to nation.

THEY WANT GILLET

That was certainly a lively situation stirred up by the action of William M. Butler, Governor Cox and Mr. Stenrus in their effort to nullify the senatorial nomination for Speaker Gillett. "We all know whom President Coolidge favors" said Gov. Cox and at once Mr. Butler wired the president for a repudiation. The president had previously stated that he would take no part in the nomination contest, but in spite of this, the word was sent out that he wanted Gillett nominated. The result will show to what extent political dictation will be accepted from the White House.

Today it is expected that the women will decide many of the more important primary contests. It is hoped that their efforts will count on the side of good government.

Let every eligible voter who has not already voted go to the polls and vote for the best and ablest candidate for each office to be filled.

Mass. Voters Go to Polls

Continued
Coolidge, treasurer of the United Shoe Machinery corporation, are seeking nomination, and in the contest for governor. Opposing each other for the republican gubernatorial nomination are Lieut-Governor Alvan T. Fuller and State Treasurer James Jackson.

Six candidates have campaigned for gubernatorial nomination for state treasurer and eleven sought four additional places on the state ticket.

Charges of "machine" methods were made by Dallinger and Coolidge against the candidacy of Speaker Gillett for senator had been publicly announced by Governor Cox and William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee. Mr. Gillett in reply defended as sound, the participation of the prominent citizens in public affairs.

Primaries in Vermont

MONTPELIER, Vt., Sept. 9.—Vermont voters were expected to attend in unusually large numbers the opening of the polls this morning for the biennial primary election. The candidacy of a native son, Calvin Coolidge, for the presidency, has aroused citizens throughout the state to a high pitch of interest in politics. Political leaders last night deplored that the early primary vote this year will be far above the 67,000 total for the state in the selection two years ago.

The primary campaign has been a quiet one but the coming election contest has reflected its interest to the state candidates for governor, lieutenant governor and congressman from one of the two districts.

Lieut. Gov. Franklin S. Billings is opposed by Roland E. Stevens of White River Junction for the gubernatorial nomination. J. Gregory Smith of St. Albans and W. H. Barnard of Burlington are disputing the lieutenant governor nomination. Congressman E. W. Gibson is opposed for re-nomination by John A. Gordon of Barra.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The Prince of Wales is entertained and stobbered over in some big American cities until he is tired and physically. Then he goes to the wilds of Canada, "for a good time," with promise to be able to "rough it." And what will he get?

Will he hang his necktie and white shirt on a bush and make him a bed of pine boughs? Will he use a tent and fry his own flap-jacks and bacon? Will he carry a canoe over a portage and paddle it through the lily pads of the silvery lake?

Will he tramp out his own pawdush hall from the mud, and smoke a gob of pipe? Will he go out among the great pines, alone, the sun above, below the mountains, to see, hear and feel nature going to bed?

Will he chop and carry wood for the campfire and sit in its glow to smoke, to think and to praise God for the rhythm of waves upon beach pebbles, the hymn of night birds in the dark forest, the twittering of young birds being put to sleep, the wonder of the stars, and the blessed freedom of a man who is being just himself?

Will he get the relief, the joy of feeling "Here as I am, God and His great works, and myself?"

Alas! It cannot be. None of the enjoyable roughness of the wilds for him. His bacon will be served with ribbons, his crawfish will be served with a professional waiter from a palace, and a crowd of flunkies will swoon at the loneliness and naturalness of it.

Poor prince! He can never escape the multitude, never enjoy the pleasures of solitude.

Despite Sunday's cool atmospheric conditions, there were, as many people at Revere beach, it seemed, as on any Sunday in the middle of the summer. All the amusements and stands were in operation, and bathers could be seen at various points along the water front.

The same conditions prevailed at Lynn, Salem and other points along the North shore. The usual hurra number of automobiles pleasure cars passed through the city. It was an ideal day for motorists.

Many "old timers" will recall Joe Dolan who used to "hang" around with the boys in the halcyon days of Middle street, when that thoroughfare was a well known residential section. I was talking with a friend of Joe's in East Boston a few days ago and learned that he is still alive and fairly active despite his 65 years of age. Although he has not lived in Lowell for a great many years, he still remembers many incidents in the life of the city well known here today. He is a shoe laced and pencil vendor in East Boston.

NEW INDICTMENTS AGAINST FORBES

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Four hitherto suppressed indictments against Colonel Charles R. Forbes, ex-head of the United States Veterans' bureau, were made public yesterday. Col. Forbes goes to trial next Monday before Federal Judge George A. Carpenter on charges of bribery in his administration of Veterans' bureau affairs.
The indictments, which also name John W. Thompson, Chicago and St. Louis contractor, who is charged with having given Forbes a bribe, were drawn up to replace the four originally drawn last February. Charges in them are the same as those in the original bills excepting that it is charged that Forbes was to receive part of a payment of $66,666.66 to Chas. Gramer, formerly chief counsel for the bureau, now deceased, which payment was to have been made by Thompson.

ROBINS TWITTER FROM RAFTERS OF POLO GROUNDS AS GIANTS FALL

Seven to 2 Victory Puts Brooklyn One-Half Game Behind League Leaders—Yanks and Senators Win and Latter Retain Advantage of Two Game Lead

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Robins nested as the pennant race and twittered from the rafters of the Polo grounds today while John McGraw sat in his dugout and speculated upon the visitation.

Wilbert Robinson led his band upon the green turf of the field yesterday to the roof-raising yells of thousands of Brooklyn fans who had journeyed across the famous bridge to see the second game of the little world's series.

Daddy Vance, stepped up on the mound and threw the fastest ball in captivity at the Giant army assembled for a final stand beneath historic Coogan's bluffs, and it neither Brooklyn nor New York witnesses a Brooklyn series next month, the forty thousand spectators at yesterday's battle will not have been entirely deprived of its thrill.

Vance won his thirteenth consecutive game and his 25th of the season; but not before the desperate Giants had delivered a strong attack.

The Robins won, 7 to 2, and today began their final effort for the pennant on the home turf, only one-half game behind the Giants and with a one and one-half game lead over the Pirates, who, with all other National League clubs, were idle yesterday.

The Yankees, fighting hard to recover the two-game lead enjoyed by Washington, won at Boston, 2 to 0, as Joe Bush held the Red Sox to two hits. Fullerton allowed only four runs in the eighth when Tugan singled and Ruth accepted the drama of the occasion and hit his 44th homer for the only scores of the game.

Washington retained its advantage, however, with Walter Johnson working easily behind an early lead for an 8 to 4 victory over the Athletics. Hauser and Miller hit homers with none on base. The St. Louis-Chicago series was postponed by rain. No others were scheduled.

Twilight league baseball on the South common was officially brought to a close last evening when the Centralville East Ends defeated Richard's Belmonts by a score of 4 to 2 in the final game of the season.

The Bellevues, managed by Thomas Flemings, won the City League pennant with 11 games won and one lost. The team will engage in the second game of the series with the Centralville winners of the Lowell league, at Alumni field next Saturday afternoon. In the first encounter last week, the C. M. A. annexed the verdict by a 4-0 score, but the Bellevues are confident of evening up at the next meeting. Snubner Trask will probably oppose Chick Fardiff, and as this will be the only big game in this vicinity on this day, a large crowd is expected.

At a meeting of the league representatives in Marie's restaurant last evening, it was voted that the second annual banquet will be held in Marie's next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The tickets will be distributed tomorrow. The mayor and others will be invited to attend.

Last night's game had an East End three all the way.

Boys scoring once in the second, again in the third, and twice in the fifth. Phil Payton opposed Tom McDowell on the rubber and had the better of the argument. Ducky Frechette, with the witlow, notched a mean triple, while Dow and Dickerson connected for two-ply smashes. The score:

KELLY ALL STARS VS. PAWTUCKET A.A.

On Sunday, Sept. 14, the Kelly All-Stars and the Pawtucket A. A., runners-up in the City Twilight league, will meet in the formal opening of the new baseball area of the Pawtucket playground.

The All-Stars, managed by John Kelly, organizer and former manager of the Pawtucket A. A., will present a group of stars playing together for the first time, while the Pawtuckets will have their usual strong array. The contest is a blood-bath in the churchyard of the work for Manager Kelly wishes to show his former organization that he has lost none of his McGraw-like ability. It is also an interesting test of the work of the new manager, who has proceeded from the game to the building fund society of the new St. Peter's church. Mayor Donovan will throw the first ball and from then on watch the fun.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 8.—Babe Ruth's home run record of 55, set in 1921, which critics said would stand for all time, may be shattered this year.

And by Clarence "Big Boy" Kraft, first baseman of the Fort Worth Panthers, and home run king of the Texas league.

Going into the game of Sept. 4, Kraft had a total of 53 four-baggers to his credit for the season. On Aug. 25 he shattered the minor league record of 49, set last year by Moses Solomon. The previous record was 48, set by Perry Vardon in 1915.

Kraft, starting from Aug. 25, had 21 games left in which to hit 10 more homers to break Ruth's record. For the last two years he had always hit 10 in the last 20 days of the season. He is at the top of his form right now and his chances of breaking the record are better than ever.

Fort Worth civic clubs are raising $10,000 to be presented to Kraft if he breaks Ruth's record of 55. The fans will not stand for him to be purposely passed and their howl counts some. Especially since Fort Worth has clinched the pennant.

Kraft's feat should not be looked upon lightly, for as a minor league performance it is equally as great as Ruth's. Most of the parks are as large as those in the American league. Kraft is a right-handed batter and gets his drives over the left or center-field walls.

The Fort Worth slugger is not a big leaguer and probably never will be. He is only an ordinary first sacker, but at bat he is the punch of the club. Kraft is a veteran. He is 35 years and he is in the same slugging who was playing with Evansville back in 1905. He came to Fort Worth in 1918.

IKE KAMP WILL REPORT TO BOSTON BRAVES

St. Patrick's of Cambridge Win Over Pawtucket Blues by Score of 3 to 2

Sunday afternoon on the Woodward avenue grounds the St. Patrick's of Cambridge defeated the Pawtucket Blues, 3 to 2, in the first of a series of three matches for the possession of the international challenge cup now held by the United States. The second game will be played next Saturday and the third probably Sept. 17. Today's game begins at 4 o'clock.

The English team, whose form in practice games during the last few weeks has been mediocre, will be further handicapped by the absence of its star back and captain, Louis Lacey, who, after being kept out of most of the practice sessions with an injured shoulder, was stricken this week with an attack of shingles.

The American quartet has shown increased effectiveness in each practice game and will be a heavy favorite in today's contest.

GOLDSTEIN DEFENDS HIS TITLE, BEATS RYAN

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Abe Goldstein, bantamweight champion of the world, is regarded in a more favorable light in state circles today following an active defense of his title in a 15-round battle with Tommy Ryan of McKeesport at the Queensboro A. C. last night.

Goldstein, who has been accused of playing unduly safe with his crown, stepped into Ryan in the latter half of the battle, exhibiting an offensive more near the level of a champion than he had shown since he won the title from Joe Lynch last winter.

Goldstein carried ten of the 15 rounds and received the decision.

Greb and Tunney were scheduled to box last night, but the bout was postponed due to a driving rain.

GREAT INTEREST IN THE WOODS-HERBERT BOUT

LOWELL FAIR RACES

The bout here Thursday night between Willie Woods and Frankie Herbert is attracting considerable attention and ought to prove a hectic mill. Both have gone up the pugilistic ladder with remarkable rapidity, and each displays the right of the other to the New England flyweight title.

In a bout at Nashua this summer announced as for the New England flyweight title, Herbert decisively defeated Eddie Polo of Wrentham. Woods has scored two knockout victories over Polo, and hence he claims that he stripped the Maine state boy of championship honors.

While many argue that to win a sectional title the participant must be a resident of that particular section, it still remains that the coming bout will give both an opportunity to settle the claim of supremacy and in the advent of a Herbert victory he will have clear claim to the honors.

Woods is the recognized flyweight champion of Scotland and only his departure for the United States, would undoubtedly be the holder of the British title at the weight. He has defeated Billy Chiswick, the British flyweight champion. Clarke won his title one month after Woods sailed for America.

In a letter to The Sun, Billy Ames, celebrated manager of Woods, writes: "Woods is true and fit, and though I look for a hard fight with Herbert, I have every confidence in our boy scoring a victory. Both are two knockouts out Eddie Polo, seven and six rounds, respectively. Herbert defeated Polo on points, so the form gives us an edge."

In the semi-final Tommy Leonard will meet Irish Dan Mahoney of Cambridge. Gus Anderson will make his professional appearance in Lowell against Bud Jackson of Lawrence. There will be another preliminary.

One of the features of the show Thursday night will be a blow-by-blow account of the Piro-Villa fight. A huge red set will be installed by John J. Hogan and the fight will be announced as it progresses.

Tonight in Boston Billy Murphy of Lowell will meet a local contender, Lake City, in one of the 10-round bouts to be staged by the Armory A.A. Quite a delegation of local fans will be at the ringside.

Phiney Boye is training for future bouts. He is not on the trail of Tony Julian, the sensational Brockton "come back" artist, and feels confident that he can take the conqueror of Dundee.

Al Brown of Cleveland and Johnny Hickok of Manchester fought a sensational 10 round draw at the Armory, Manchester, N. H., last night. It was a thrilling mill from beginning to end, and when the bell rang at the ringside Al Brown had the edge, the decision was well received by the great majority. Brown injured his left hand during the early stages of the bout, but he fought until the end.

The bouts scheduled for the Nashua, N. H. theatre last night in which two Lowell boys were listed to perform, were postponed for a week.

TONIGHT'S GAME
Victorians vs. Iroquois (Alken street grounds.)

The St. Joseph Cadets have left not a shadow of doubt but that they will lift the Junior Twilight League title. Last night they defeated the Centralville Mysteries, 4 to 1, in a game that was a real thriller.

The Cadets allowed the Mysteries but one hit while he struck out seven of their men. Frechette laid out a three-bagger but was tagged trying to run it out. The loss of the game was due to two errors in the first inning. The Cadets as many runs.

SILESIA-ABBOT WORSTED SERIES BEGINS TONIGHT

The stage is all set for the first game in the Abbot Worsted-Silesia mills series in Granville this evening. The game will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock to give the teams an opportunity to play nine innings. If possible, before darkness sets in.

The second game will be played in No. Chelmsford tomorrow evening.

President Claude Davidson of the Boston twilight league and President Francis Murphy of the Central Massachusetts league have arranged for a championship series between the winners and the second place teams in their respective leagues.

Gardner and Nashua wound up the season tied for first place as the result of Sunday's games in the Central league and will play a three-game series for the title. The winner of that battle will meet the winner of the battle with the Covington handball team for a championship series between Lawrence-North-Cambridge set-to, and the losing teams will also have a series for the second place honors.

The details of the two series have not been settled.

BLACK GOLD NOT TO COMPETE

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 8.—Black Gold, winner of four derbies and eligible for the Covington handball future race on the opening card at Latonia, Saturday, will not compete in that race, it was said today.

The horse is in training at Latonia for the third international sprint race in which the French horse, Eplard, will run.

CAMBRIDGE TEAM LOOKING FOR GAME

The St. Patrick's Catholic club of Cambridge would like a game with a team in the Lowell Junior Twilight League for Saturday or Sunday to be played in Lowell. A team that has won over the Pawtucket Blues is preferred.

Managers can communicate with James Bolger 70 York street, Cambridge or telephone University 0804-J.

ST. PETER'S CADETS TO DISCUSS FOOTBALL

The old familiar call is once again sounded as the football season approaches. Now we have a first round in the St. Peter's Cadet football series. This Tuesday evening is the time, and the place will be St. Peter's school hall where the first meeting of the boys' grid men and those eligible for this year's team will be held.

Onanian, Kelly, Regan, Busby, Kennick, the Honan brothers, McLaughlin, Kierce, Baron, brothers, Brady, McGrath and the other old favorites will be right on deck for this season and in addition many other youth of St. Peter's parish have signified their intentions in going out for the eleven this year.

St. Peter's Cadets met and defeated some of the finest football players of their class in this section of the state last year and the management of the eleven has a hard schedule for the boys.

Local football enthusiasts who followed with interest the eleven last year are expecting big things from the boys again this year and the Cadets may be assured that they will receive plenty of backing from the public. It is expected that a large attendance will be held at the first meeting of the eleven since last fall.

Easy and Convenience IN MAINE

Six-room houses are by far the most in demand by average families. Here is an out-of-the-ordinary example, combining all the convenience of the always popular square plan with a distinctive and pleasing exterior. It requires considerable skill to achieve well-designed exterior for a square house and this one merits special study.

The hip roof, the large front porch, central chimney, central entrance and long living room with a stairway at one end—all these are there. The use of half-limbers and batten shutters lend originality.

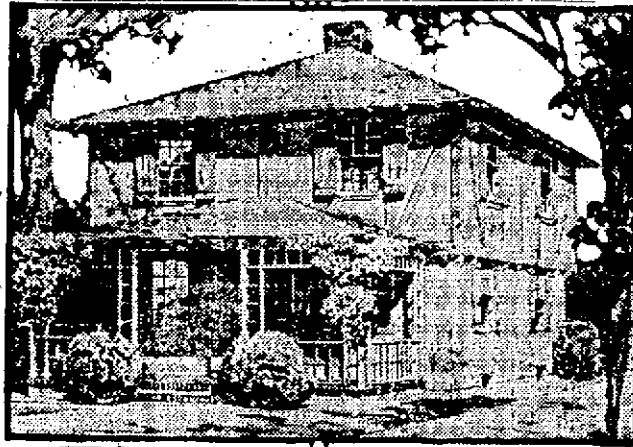

The second floor has an overhang, with brackets, rather than heavy pillars, are a pleasing variation in the porch treatment.

The living room gets the benefit of windows on three sides. There is a convenient passage to the kitchen, so that one may answer the doorbell promptly. A closet in this passage may be used either for coats or as a broom closet.

It is easy to picture the dining room pleasantly furnished, since a pair of corner china closets are built-in, with French doors between. The kitchen is small, but large enough to contain the needed equipment.

Two of the three bedrooms are cross-ventilated. Each has on a corner closet, and one has a built-in tray arrangement that closes behind a regular door, while another has a built-in dressing table and a small closet in addition. The bath-room is extra large—3 feet by 4 feet 4 inches, so the large linen closet is located here, with a towel closet near the bathtub and a medicine case over the lavatory.

This house, in the average city, should cost about $175, figuring 30 cents to a cubic foot.

Republican Elected Governor by Plurality of 30,000 Over Pattangall

Fernald, Republican, Defeats Redman for United States Senator—Heavy Vote

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—Brewster of Portland, republican, a member of the state senate, was elected governor of Maine yesterday by a plurality of more than 30,000 over William R. Pattangall of Augusta, democrat. With returns received from 593 election precincts out of 633 in the state the vote stood:

Brewster 135,648
Pattangall 103,773

The missing precincts included the city of Bangor which is normally republican, one precinct of Portland and a number of towns which have too small a total vote to affect the result materially. With the same precincts missing, one additional Portland precinct missing, United States Senator Bert M. Fernald, republican, received a revised vote of 135,639 to 91,618 for Fulton J. Redman, democrat. The four republican congressmen were re-elected by safe margins.

Pattangall, a former attorney-general of Maine, conducted his campaign against Brewster principally on the issue of the Ku Klux Klan. In the primaries Brewster was endorsed by the Klan for the republican nomination, although he asserted that he was not a member of the Klan and had never sought its support. On the day of the primary returns Brewster was defeated by President Frank G. Farrington of the state senate by a small margin, but on a recount Brewster was given the nomination. The first telegram of congratulation which he received last night came from Farrington.

Brewster spoke chiefly on state issues during his election campaign, making no mention of the Klan. Republican speakers of national prominence who came into the state in support of Brewster and Fernald and the four republican congressmen, however, laid their emphasis on national issues and joined the republican state committee in insisting that a vote for Brewster meant endorsement of President Coolidge.

Brewster is a lawyer and has served six years in the legislature. He is 35 years of age and was educated at Bowdoin college and the Harvard law school.

Pattangall was the democratic nominee for governor in 1922 against Percival P. Baxter, republican, and was defeated by a plurality of 28,457 in a total vote sixty thousand less than that cast yesterday.

A feature of the vote for governor was the fact that in his home ward in Augusta, Pattangall received only 772 votes to 421 for Brewster.

Chairman Butler Issues Statement
CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—William M. Butler, chairman of the National Republican committee, today in a statement declared that "we have made a clean sweep in Maine."

A republican Governor has been elected by 34,000. A republican senator has been elected by 47,000. In every one of the four congressional districts of Maine republicans were elected by substantial and increased majorities.

"Maine has had the largest vote ever recorded in its history, and the verdict is definite and forceful. The Maine barometer records unmistakable confidence in Calvin Coolidge and his policies, and his triumphant election."

"Only one real issue was before the voters in the Maine election—the administration of Calvin Coolidge. The people made his cause their cause. The vote is the answer."

Coolidge Wins Congratulations
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—President Coolidge today sent a message of congratulation to George Emery of Portland, Me., chairman of the republican state committee on the results of yesterday's election.

"Accept my congratulations," the president said, "on the significant and decisive victory for the republican ticket in the state of Maine."

CHILD LABOR A "SHAMEFUL EVIL"

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Child labor was denounced yesterday as "a shameful evil and economically unsound" at a meeting of ministers at the Swedenborgian church, Howdoin street, by Rev. Worth M. Tippy, secretary of the Commission on Social Service of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. The meeting was under the auspices of the Federation of Churches of Greater Boston and Massachusetts.

The meeting was well attended. It was opened by Sac. Root of the Greater Boston Federation of Churches. He spoke of the importance of the child labor question, and presented Rev. Dr. Charles P. Rice as chairman. Rev. Dr. Charles P. Rice, as chairman, presented the meeting by Rev. Henry J. Kilbourn, president of the Congregationalist Ministers' meeting.

"Child labor," said Rev. Mr. Tippy, "is a distinguished from wholesome after-school and vacation assistance in home and on the farm, stunts growth, handicaps the future and produces illiterate. Children soon lose their opportunity. Given two or three years out of school or a half dozen years of broken school work, and their chance is irretrievably lost."

"Let us not sacrifice the children to the constitution, but protect the children by the constitution. The Federal Council of Churches believes that congress can be trusted to act fairly for the control of child labor and the children's bureau to administer the law wisely and considerately. Extreme legislation is not likely to pass, but if it would be quickly repealed. Experience with the first two enactments, too, shows that federal legislation sets a minimum, not maximum, standards."

After a luncheon in Chipman hall, Tremont temple, another session was held, under the auspices of Massachusetts women who favor the child labor amendment. Addresses were made by Mrs. Roach of the Child Labor committee, Rabbi David Goldberg of Brooklyn, Mrs. William Tilton, State Deputy Commissioner of Labor John J. Meade, John Van Vane of the Jamaica Plain, and Rev. Mr. Tippy. Rev. George P. O'Connor of the cathedral presided.

There were more than 100 persons present, most of them clergymen. Fr. O'Connor said, in introducing the speakers, that there were so many phases of child labor and so many needs of the legislation that there should be no hesitation in expressing opinions about it.

PLAN FALL AND WINTER ACTIVITIES

A very important meeting of the Altissima club of North Billerica was held last evening at the home of Mr. Thomas Barton. All members were present and much was accomplished in regard to plans being made for the coming fall and winter season. It was unanimously decided by the club to receive suggestions on plays or plays from the public. It is quite an arduous task on the club members to choose a play for presentation that will appeal to the public. In its decision to get away from this practice last night the club members feel that many suggestions will pour in concerning different plays for presentation by the club. All suggestions, etc., should be mailed or sent to the club secretary, Miss Mary A. McCarthy, North Billerica, Pres. Mylos Flinnegan presided at last night's meeting and attended routine and new business was after to, adjourned until Sept. 18th. This meeting will be held at the home of Miss Helen Hayes, at which time the club no doubt will be in a position to take definite steps in regard to their coming program, for the fall and winter. After the meeting, the hostess, Mrs. Barton served ices.

CONTEST SO. SENATE PRIMARY

Sen. Magnus Johnson Said He Planned to Issue Challenge to Pres. Coolidge

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 9.—Magnus Johnson, farmer-labor candidate for re-election as United States senator from Minnesota, announced in an address here last night that he is planning to issue a challenge to President Coolidge for a hay-pitching contest. Later he declared he was only "joshing."

"You know I have been campaigning for three months," he said. "I have been doing so much talking that I was afraid the people would say, 'Why, he isn't a dirt farmer after all.' So I went back to the farm one day and pitched oats."

"Then I read in the papers that President Coolidge was up in Vermont on the farm. He raked a little hay and I guess he pitched some. So I am going to challenge him. I might come out better with the president than I did with Secretary Wallace in our milking contest. You know all about that."

U.S. DIPLOMATS DISCUSS CHINESE SITUATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—While American diplomatic representatives abroad have been discussing the new Chinese disorders informally with various foreign officials, they have pooled on their own initiative with a view to keeping themselves fully informed and not under any instructions from Washington with a view to concerted action in China.

Recent developments in China have assumed a serious aspect with the threatened widening of the fighting around Shanghai into a full-fledged civil war that it may become necessary for the interested powers to devise means of insuring protection for their nationals in China. If the Washington government has any move in this direction in mind, however, it has been unwilling to disclose its plans.

The Washington government, it was said, definitely has advanced no proposals, even in an informal way, and the situation remains at it was with the diplomatic corps in Peking acting in unison on matters affecting equally all foreign nations in China. In such cases the acting diplomats act very largely on their own initiative in formulating notes to the Chinese central government.

Delegates from all over the world are arriving at Ithaca to take part in the week's sessions of the society. More than one thousand have already arrived.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 9.—The contest between Cole L. Blease, twice governor of South Carolina, and Representative James Byrnes for the United States senate nomination, dominated public interest as South Carolina democrats went to the polls today to make nominations not settled by the first primary held two weeks ago.

Since the democratic nomination is equivalent to election, the winner will succeed Senator Dial, who was eliminated in the first primary.

CANON CHASE CALLS AT WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Canon William S. Chase of New York called at the White House today and after a meeting with President Coolidge, secretary of the House, went to the department of justice to carry on his fight for the deportation of Luis Angel Pirpo, Argentine heavyweight boxer.

Dr. Chase said he had not given up hope of blocking the fight scheduled for Thursday night between Pirpo and Harry Wills, but added he did not expect to go before the president in the case. Mr. Coolidge made it known recently that the question would be entirely up to the department of labor.

MUST PROVE VICTORY NOT A KLAN VICTORY

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—Lincoln Dixon, western democratic manager, in a statement on the Maine election results today said:

"A normally republican state has returned its usual republican majority with results that leave the republicans more at sea than ever before in the field to cut heavily into their vote, as it will in the western states and in many of the eastern states."

"They have fallen considerably below the majority of 50 per cent on the face of latest returns today. They face the necessity of proving that their victory was not a Klan victory."

IDENTIFY SEAMAN WHO COMMITTED SUICIDE

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 9.—The suicide of the U.S.S. Ananias last week was E. L. Board, seaman first class, according to a statement from the torpedo station diving school here today. The experts who have been engaged in the deep water search have abandoned the daily visits to the bottom of the bay as it is considered that there is no chance of locating the body. It was the cause of Board's taking his life as the diving crew have understood it. The enlistment record and other history of the case has gone along with the ship except for the report of the court of inquiry which has been forwarded to Washington.

Fighting on 100 Mile Front Near Shanghai

started between Nanshang and Hwang-tai, with Anting, 20 miles from Shanghai, as the objective. The other was at Lihou, on the coast northwest of Wosung.

An observer who returned from that front at 4 p. m. reported that he had seen the Chekiang troops push forward their fighting line for a gain of two miles. The rainfall, which stopped the fighting, started soon afterwards.

The Lungwa announcement referred to the counter-attack along the railway as a "tremendous effort."

Almost at the same time the fighting started, defense units mounted guard at the approaches to the international settlement and the French concession, making effective in those parts of the city the "state of emergency" which has been declared to exist.

The executive functions of the government have been taken over by the new cabinet with General Altamirano at its head.

After the approval last evening by the two houses of congress of the reform measures which had been demanded by the military committee, the president of state signed a proclamation announcing the steps which had been taken. Then President Alessandri renounced his office.

SOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—With the elimination of the uncertainty regarding the outcome of the Maine election, the stock market at today's opening continued the vigorous rise which was in progress at the close yesterday. United States Steel mounted 1 1/2 points on a spread opening. General Electric soared 4 1/2 points. American Water Works and New York Central, Baldwin, Mack Truck and United States Cast Iron Pipe 1 to 2 1/2 points.

The market swung into a split rally as transactions of 1,000 shares or more reflected the heavy volume of buying orders. The advance was accelerated by active short covering which was added to heavy purchasing for long account by interests who had been awaiting the result of the Maine election. The three points for more were recorded by National Lead, West Penn Power and Chandler, with American Can and Wills-Overland preferred advancing two points each. The upturn in the rail shares was led by Union Pacific, Lackawanna, New York Central, "Nikel Plate" and Norfolk & Western. Pittsburgh & West Virginia preferred reached a new high at 10 1/4, following announcement that the issue had been called for redemption in 1916. One point gains were well distributed throughout the entire list. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

When the immediate requirements of the short interest in the market fell back a point or so on profit-taking inspired by the belief that the early advance had been excessive. Chandler fell back three points, the price of high and near selling again developed in some of the specialties which were weak yesterday, particularly Coca Cola, Allied Chemical, Union Bag and Paper and American Sumatra. Coca Cola preferred, the last named dropping more than three points to a new 1924 low at 21. This selling failed to unsettle the general list and prices were heading upward again around noon when the leadership of high grade railroad shares. New York Central, Lackawanna, Norfolk and Western, Canadian Pacific and New Orleans, Texas and Mexico set the pace by moving up 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 points. On the rebound General Electric, American Can and some of the other specialties topped their previous peak prices. Call money again renewed at two per cent.

Directors of the Rutland railroad took no action on the declaration of a dividend on the preferred stock at their meeting today.

The bull forces had the market so well in hand in the afternoon they were enabled to mark up various shares considerably higher, regardless of the heavy selling in American Woolen, Coca Cola, Daniel Boone Woolen Mills, Conglomerate and Chandler, the latter reflecting the cut in the dividend. High priced colliers were buoyant, Lackawanna crossing 146 to a new top while Jersey Central was up 6 1/4.

The closing was strong. Resumption of coal operations in the tobacco market threw up two points in the late trading. West Penn Power advanced five points but Rutland preferred broke eight points and National Enamelling preferred 6 1/2 to a new low.

Jack Daw's Adventures Chapter 19

As the native's great knife was flung forward, big branches of trees fell away and made a small opening. Jack, the captain, and the two sailors merely followed this native until he grew tired of cutting. Then Jack said he'd take a try at it. The captain took the monkey and Jack started to hack.

He had gone but a short distance until they came to an opening in the jungle. "Well, this is just the place to camp out for the night," said the young adventurer. "Oh, there might be danger of wild animals," replied one of the sailors. "We'd best keep on going a while and then sleep in trees."

This made the native guide laugh. "You needn't be afraid of the wild animals," said he, as he started spreading out leaves and brush to make a good resting place. "No animals will bother us if we keep a good fire burning. They are afraid of fire and won't come near it." (Continued.)

BRITISH SOLDIER OF FORTUNE FOUND DEAD

BOSTON, Sept. 9.—Alexander Cross, an Englishman, whom 36 years of adventure had carried around the world, was found dead yesterday from natural causes in the doorway of a house on Beacon Hill. He was born in England 53 years ago. For 28 years he was in the British customs service in China.

At the outbreak of the World war, he took passage on a Japanese liner for India, the nearest point to get into the game. En route the German raider Wolf halted his ship and took him off. There followed more than six months of scouring the seas on German raiders, preying on English shipping and dodging allied warships.

Finally his captors landed him in Denmark. From there Cross made his way to England. He was commissioned a captain and, because of his long Oriental experience, given command of 10,000 Chinese coolies laboring on the British line.

His health broken by war work, he came to Boston at the end of the war and was engaged by Dr. J. R. G. Grandon, a surgeon and professor at the Harvard Medical School, to care for his private hospital at his home.

At his lodging house in Arlington, Mass., where he lived with his wife, Margaret, now in Canada, no one knew of the adventurous past of Cross. They knew him as a mild-mannered gentleman broken in health.

Only Dr. Grandon, who had given him the library, sincerely was able to tell the police yesterday of the history of the man they found dead. Dr. Grandon recently was identified as the husband of the mysterious "Margarita," psychic, whose seances were held in said County.

American's committee on the award of the $2500 prize offered for proof of communication with the spirit world.

The role of Captain Cook in the "Pageant of Empire," at Wembley, England, was filled by a direct descendant of the famous explorer.
